Mail Entry Book Enjoys Vacation

The entry book at the county jail had a 24-hour vacation for the first time in months, according to Jailer George Boyd today, when no entries were made between 9:30 yesterday morning and 10 o'clock today.

The jail population, with a total of 162, including some 55 prisoners, accommodated for at San Diego county, is at the lowest point it has been for the last three months.

"Business is very quiet," jail attaches say.

PORTER LEADS BONELLI FOR MAYOR'S POST

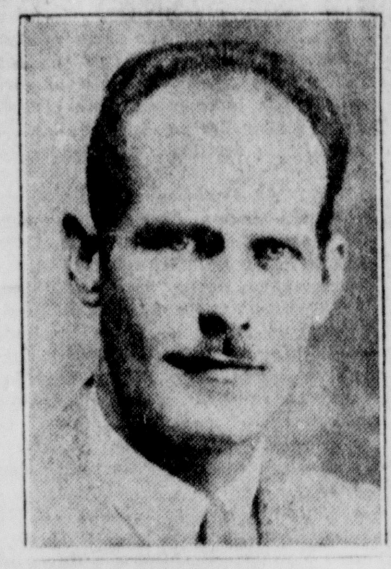

LOS ANGELES, May 8.—(UP)—John C. Porter and William G. Bonelli will oppose each other for the office of mayor of Los Angeles on June 4 as the result of Tuesday's primary election.

In 1915 precincts out of 1482 Porter polled 68,705 votes against 40,941 for Bonelli. John R. Quinn, former national commander of the American Legion, received 35,030 votes eliminating him from the race.

Eleven other contestants polled quotas ranging from 1572 for Charles J. Colden to 19,753 for Perry H. Greer, who ran on the platform "a business man for mayor."

Bonelli now is president of city council and Porter is foreman of the grand jury that indicted Asa Keyes, former district attorney, on charges of accepting bribes.

Late returns showed Erwin P. Werner with a large lead over Pierson M. Hall for city attorney. There was a chance he would be elected at the primary.

Altitude Record Is Established By Navy Lieutenant

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(UP)—Lieut. Apollo Soucek of the Anacostia naval air station today flew to a height of 40,000 feet, establishing a new world altitude record for all classes of planes.

Lieut. O. C. Champion held the old record of 38,418 feet, established July 25, 1927.

Soucek appeared to have suffered little from the terrific height and made a nice landing. He said his altimeter read 40,000 feet at the height of his climb and the plane would go no higher.

A Wright Apache plane, the same one Lieutenant Cham- pion used in establishing the old record, was used by Soucek.

Soucek took off from the naval air station at 11:10 a. m. and landed at 12:23. He carried 60 gallons of gasoline and reached the top of his climb in 45 minutes, he said.

NAVY BOARD IS NAMED TO FIND DIRIGIBLE BASE

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(UP)—A board of five naval officers was appointed by Secretary of Navy Adams today to investigate and recommend a site for a lighter-than-air base on the Pacific coast.

The board will restrict its investigations to the Los Angeles-San Diego area and is ordered to submit its report by November 1, 1929.

The board is composed of the following officers: Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, senior member, chief of the navy bureau of aeronautics; Rear Admiral Joseph M. Reeves, member of the navy general board; Commander Garland Fulton, in charge of the lighter-than-air division of the bureau of aeronautics; Lieut. Comdr. Charles E. Rosendahl, in charge of rigid airship training and experimental squadron; Lieut. Comdr. E. L. Marshall, attached to the Fourth naval district headquarters at Philadelphia, Pa.

Appointment of the board was ordered by an act of congress passed last March.

Tennis Champion Nervous As Court Event Approaches

WIMBLEDON, Eng., May 8.—(UP)—They may call her "Little Poker Face" at home, and comment upon her impenetrability on the tennis court, but Helen Wills is just as nervous as can be about her presentation at court in Buckingham palace tomorrow.

So excited, in fact, was the women's tennis champion to- day that she showed up for practice at Wimbledon with two left shoes.

Finally, a man's shoe was found to fit Miss Wills, and she played three practice sets against one of the local men.

Later in the afternoon, Helen departed hurriedly to pay her respects to the Bishop of London at Fulham palace. It will be recalled she played tennis with the bishop in California during the latter's world tour.

LAST MINUTE EFFORTS MADE TO SAVE BILL

State's Water Program Will Be Decided Late Today
As Vote Taken

SACRAMENTO, May 8.—(UP)—Desperate last minute at- tempts were being made in the legislature today by proponents of the $124,000,000 co-ordinated water program to gain support for the Crittenden bill, which will be taken up in the assembly late this afternoon.

Chaos was evident in the ranks of backers of the bill, which calls for a statewide irrigation, flood control and hydro-electric system, the fruit of a two year investigation by the water commission. Assemblyman Bradford Crittenden refused to call the bill on the floor of the assembly during the morning session, asserting that he was still "working" on details as- tant on the passage of the measure.

To add to the confusion, Sena- tors William Sharkey and Ralph Swing opened debate on their substitute bill in the senate, which calls only for completion of a por- tion of the scheme to include salt water barrier in Carquinez straits and a flood control project on the Santa Ana river.

"You are now entering our Golden Gate through which the life stream of our community flows. Water, work and will make the foundation of our community," the booklet greeting said.

The group arrived at the county line in the Santa Ana canyon after having visited Riverside county.

AIR EXPRESS FLYER DIES IN PLANE FALL

CHEYENNE, Wyo., May 8.—(UP)—Ivan D. Houston, of Eugene, Ore., flyer for the Western Air Express, Inc., was found dead early today in the airplane in which he was flying mail from Denver to Cheyenne. Houston is believed to have lost his way in the fog. The plane was found 10 miles south of Cheyenne.

The discovery was made by Hugh Allen, another flyer for the company, who left Denver with mail for Cheyenne this morning. Houston's mail was not damaged, it was announced at the company offices.

MAN RESCUES SEVEN

OAKLAND, May 8.—(UP)—John Monterio, 40, was severely burned today when he rescued seven persons from his blazing home.

Monterio was awakened by the crackling of flames. He jumped from a window and caught his wife and three children as they leaped to the ground.

Then he rushed up a smoke- filled stairway and through flames to the top floor of the house and dragged Mr. and Mrs. William Tullua and their daughter to safety.

Woman Divorced Two Hours After Complaint Filed

LONG BEACH, May 8.—(UP)—Just two hours after she filed her complaint yesterday, Mrs. Zella Smoot Nibley, daughter of United States Senator Reed Smoot, was granted a divorce from Carlyle Nibley, automobile dealer.

The proceedings were the short- est ever recorded in a case of that kind in the history of the local superior court.

Mrs. Nibley charged cruelty. She was awarded $350 a month for support of the couple's three chil- dren until they become of age.

VESSELS RUSH TO FRENCH STEAMER

SANTIAGO, Chile, May 8.—(UP)—Two Chilean naval vessels were dispatched today to the assistance of the French steamer Saint Andre, which was reported in distress three miles north of Punta Carrazo, unable to navigate because of a broken propeller.

An S. O. S. signal from the Saint Andre was intercepted by the Talcahuano radio station. The naval vessels Condell and Crom- bello were sent to the scene.

EARTHQUAKE IN AUSTRALIA

AUCLAND, New Zealand, May 9.—UP—Damage of many thou- sands of pounds was wrought by an earthquake which rocked this island at 3:45 a. m. today.

Buildings were wrecked, chim- neys knocked down, and in some cases the populace thrown into a panic.

The tremor was felt from Wanganui-Palmerston all the way across the island to Napier.

It was said to be the worst in six years.

TWO STORM BOUND TRAINS RELEASED

WINNIPEG, Man., May 8.—(UP)—Two Canadian National railway trains, storm bound on the Hudson Bay railway, were re- leased late yesterday and pro- ceeded on their way to Churchill.

For 10 days the trains, carrying several hundred passengers, were tied up while one of the worst blizzards in the history of the north prevailed. With a moder- ation of the weather, train crews and extra gangs were able to put snow plows into operation.

Neither passengers nor crews were reported to have suffered any ill effects from their enforced stay in the midst of wilderness.

Auditorium Crowded To Doors For Symphony Concert

TWO CHORUSES ALSO ON MUSIC WEEK PROGRAM

By RUTH ANDREWS

Adding another triumph to its many splendid performances in past seasons, the Santa Ana Symphony orchestra, conducted by D. C. Clafoni, was heard in the Santa Ana high school auditorium last night by a capacity audience, packing the house to the doors, in what was doubtless the most successful concert of its interesting career.

Augmented membership to a personnel of 80 musicians, through the assistance of the San Pedro Symphony orchestra, resulted in a performance of such outstanding merit that it would have been a thorough credit to any metropolitan organization.

The orchestra was also assisted on its excellently-varied program, arranged in honor of the present Music week celebration, by Santa Ana's favorite male choral ensemble, the Cantando club of 60 voices, directed by Leon Eckles, and the American Legion auxiliary chorus, led by Cecil Fries Willets.

Prior to the concert program, George Walker, Boy Scout executive, was introduced as song leader by Chairman Harry Hanson. Walker's jovial personality stimulated the throng for a half hour of spirited community singing. Miss Eva Ramsey appearing at the piano.

As the curtain rose, displaying the large orchestra, attractively grouped its impressive appearance was greeted by an ovation of applause from the audience, repeated again and again during the evening. Delicacy and superbly shaded timbres characterized rendition of the favorite "William Tell" Overture, which opened the program.

Vivid contrast of the definite moods characterizing different movements of this masterpiece, splendid instrumental coordination, and well-sustained feeling for dramatic effect marked a masterful interpretation not soon to be forgotten by the highly enthusiastic audience.

Admirable shading was supervident in every graceful measure of Paderewski's famous classic "Minute," vivid crescendos and sudden diminuendos portrayed with sensitiveness and interpretative regard. Picturesque in blue and gold, the American Legion Auxiliary Chorus, directed by Cecil Fries Willets, was heard in three appealing numbers, also well-liked. Melodic language of "Allah's Holiday" (Friml) preceded tender sentiment of the favorite "Gypsy Love Song" (Herbert), the "Gondola Song" (Roberts) a truly pleasing barcarole. Ruth Armstrong at the piano accompanied the chorus with customary charm and certainty.

With each hearing new wonders are found in Franz Schubert's famous "Unfinished Symphony," casting an ageless spell on the audience from its first rich "cello notes, followed by subdued strings. Ever-recurring ebb and flow of mellow tonal beauty, reverently profound feeling and impassioned climaxes were portrayed by the local Orchestra last night with real insight.

Director Clafoni's ease of manner and inspired ability to gain subtly shaded effects were never seen to better advantage. Clean-cut work of Elwood Bear, concertmaster, was also very noteworthy.

Introduced by Hanson, Mrs. Le-law Atherton Irish, chairman of the Hollywood Bowl association, and one of the most prominent musical figures in Southern California, was heard in a brief address. That Mrs. Irish is a woman of sincere purpose and forceful personality was evident in every accent and inflection of her voice. She said in part:

"I wonder whether you all experienced such a thrill as I did, as I came through the door of your beautiful auditorium this evening, a vital feeling similar to that I experienced last summer when we closed our season in Hollywood Bowl.

"A community having the cultural influences which this community must possess, must be considered one of the more important cities in Southern California.

"I am proud that I can claim nativity of California for three generations. This is one of the most beautiful possessions one might inherit.

"Back in the early days culture, beauty and music were not unusual in the early days of the Spanish regime. Now in this year 1929, we are as great in the pioneer field of music as the pioneers were in the early life of California. Seemingly Southern California is coming to play a prominent part in the musical development of the country.

You of Santa Ana tonight have Mr. Clafoni to thank for having made possible presentation of this beautifully balanced program of the old masters, Rossini, Schubert, Brahms and Strauss.

"The foundation of every community is its industrial foundation. Near you is a great city, a great civic center to which the great world looks for its cinema industry, also to which it looks for its great musical organization the Hollywood Bowl.

Lauds S. A. Chamber

"The Rose tournament in Pasadena now is an established institution. Pasadena is now known far and wide for its Rose tournament. Your own Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce should be greatly credited for having the intelligence to encourage this community to take a prominent place in world affairs musically. What a great deal we owe these chambers of commerce, with these men with intellect to think and act for us.

"Southern California does not have to talk about climate any more; there is too much more that is equally vital.

"Always I think first and foremost of symphony music, the most living and vital form of music. Symphonic organizations are the backbone of the community to which they belong. Think of the tireless efforts back of every symphonic organization. Think what it means to have made possible such a marvelous institution as the Hollywood Bowl!

"We need everybody to make this great state of ours one of the leading states in the world, not because we want to lead, but because we want to make the world better for having been in it.

"I will close with these poignant lines from the play Ramona, recently staged in Hemet. They stand out like a beaming ray of light:

"What will it profit a man if he gaineth the whole world, if he loseth his soul?"

Following Mrs. Irish's address, the Cantando club, directed by Leon Eckles, and also accompanied by Ruth Armstrong, was heard in a well-constructed song group. Cadman's effective "Builder," well adapted to masculine voices was followed by Davison's "Galloway Piper," tinkling, unique, well liked. Protheroe's delicate "Shadow March" was a fantastic novelty, also vigorously applauded. "Dawn" (Curran) made appropriate climax, richly contrasted voices raised in stirring challenge. At its conclusion both club and director received an ovation from the audience.

Violin Quartet Pleases

An especially pleasing feature was the instrumental number, "Capriccio" (Hermann), presented by the Elwood Bear violin quartet, composed of three advanced violin pupils of Mr. Bear, Georgia Bell Walton, Emelena Richards and Marion Nau, who together with Mr. Bear have formed this interesting ensemble. The selection was interpreted with subtle delicacy and careful attentiveness, that were most satisfying.

The orchestra again was heard in the vivid "Hungarian Dances" (Brahms) the tantalizing Gypsy rhythms given a vigorous, ferocious reading that made them especially well received. Ever a favorite conclusion to symphonic programs, familiar strains of the universally loved "Blue Danube Waltz" (Strauss) were never more enjoyably presented than last evening, by the augmented instrumentation.

It seems only fitting to pay brief tribute to the splendid work accomplished by Director Clafoni in making possible for Santa Ana our splendid Symphony Orchestra. This accomplishment has not been effected overnight, but by endless effort, with absolutely no personal gain apart from the satisfaction that comes when one has brought happiness to an entire community.

Tonight's special Music week program, to be offered in the high school auditorium, will feature the Santa Ana Municipal band, under Clafoni's direction, also appearance of Louise Caselotti, of Los Angeles, operatic star with San Carlo Opera company, whose sensational success, though she is only 18, is a matter of much comment.

The popular Treble Clef club, ladies' chorus of 80, directed by Margherita Marsden, will also be heard in a charming song group, and as a special number they will feature the new song "The City of Music," recently composed by Clafoni and dedicated to this community. Katherine and Ellen Collins, well known juvenile artists, members of the John Smallman Junior Oratorio Society of Los Angeles, will also appear on tonight's program.

So many requests have been made for repetition of the famous selection from Wagner's "Parsifal" that it will be an additional treat for tonight's audience.

The story of "Parsifal" is based on the famous legend of the Holy Grail, one of the most beautiful of poetic legends of the Middle Ages. Wagner's version tells of the Holy Grail, the cup from which Christ drank at the Last Supper, and in which was placed the blood flowing from the wounds of the Savior. To the guarding of the Holy Grail a company of knights of great purity devoted their lives, despite every temptation.

Authorities claim that in creation of "Parsifal," his final opera Wagner reached his highest sphere as a composer. Mystic symbolism and poetry characterize his treatment of this sacred subject. It was written, with the events of the life of Christ in Wagner's mind, and is highly spiritual in nature. Symbolic of the highest and purest attainable by mankind, the search for the Holy Grail represents man's eternal striving for perfect purity.

posed dam site for water storage and flood control in the Santa Ana river. The plan for this development will involve an expenditure of $16,500,000, the members of the conference were told; the plan has been approved by the Orange county board of supervisors and work already has been started toward the accomplishment of this undertaking.

Flood Control

The plan as outlined to the conference includes several flood control dams in the various watersheds of Orange county, the major project of which is to be the erection of an $11,000,000 dam at the site where the conference stopped. This dam is to hold back the surplus waters through the winter season and release them gradually to replenish the underground reservoirs during the year. The dam will be 1000 feet thick at the base, and earth-filled.

"The water levels have been receding rapidly in the last decade," Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg told the farm bureau delegates, "due to the heavy draught made for irrigation purposes. The conservation of the winter run-off will not only provide ample water for irrigation development but it will also stop the extensive damage created by the peak floods."

The development was described to the conference as the most important issue before the county at the present time, affecting both rural and urban districts. The Orange County Farm bureau has been active in the promotion of a water conservation plan for many years.

How bees make honey from orange blossoms was demonstrated to the conference when it arrived at the Gerald Tremblay apiary, near Fullerton. Here was seen a typical apiary moved into an orange grove for the spring flow of honey.

There are 15,000 colonies of bees in Orange county, the conference was told, and the production in 1928 was 300 tons. An active Beekeepers Department of the Orange County Farm bureau holds regular meetings and demonstrations for the dissemination of the best available information on what was described as a highly specialized subject.

Fifteen 4-H club boys are engaged in a honey project, with the county bee inspector as their project leader. Earl Emde, a 4-H club member, explained the project, and told of his own work, which last year netted him a profit of $371.41.

Fourteen Clubs

There are in Orange County at the present time 220 officially enrolled agricultural projects in 14 clubs, the conference was told by Assistant Farm Advisor E. E. Eastman, and two new clubs in process of organization. The 220 projects are in 13 agricultural lines, as follows: beekeeping 6, bred heifer 1, dairy calf 3, doe and litter 22, egg laying 23, flower-raising 4, landscape 15, nursery 14, pig feeding 12, pigeon raising 13, poultry brooding 45, sow and litter 3, vegetable gardening 49. Last year, Eastman said, 179 members enrolled in 13 project lines made a gross income of $5,007.17, which yielded a profit of $1410.24.

Each of the 14 clubs in Orange county has its own officers elected from its membership and is directed by a local leader, assisted frequently by one or more assistant leaders and project leaders.

County Insectary

At the Orange County Insectary the work of that plant was shown, and a demonstration of the University plan septic tank was given. Methods of propagating Cryptolaelus beetles for the biological control of the Citrophilus mealybug, a pest of the citrus trees, were shown the travel conference here. The plant, is the largest of its kind in the world, producing thirty million crypts each season.

There are 22 buildings, which cost $60,000. The money for construction was raised through the cooperative packing association on a charge of a quarter of a cent per box. The plant is maintained by the county, under the supervision of the horticultural commissioner. The early organization and establishment of the insectary was initiated by the Citrus Growers' department of the Orange County Farm bureau in 1921. It has grown since that time to its present size. Brock explained to the delegates the process of rearing the millions of parasitic beetles which are later distributed over 40,000 acres of the area infested by the mealybug.

Explaining the university plan septic tank, Assistant Farm Advisor W. M. Cory and Project Leader Ray Christensen showed a typical installation at the Insectary. More than 200 of these septic tanks, they said, have been built in the county as a direct influence of demonstrations. The advantages of the septic tank Cory described as follows: it is a permanent improvement, it costs no more than a cesspool, it eliminates underground water contamination, and it provides a safe means of sewage disposal.

At Irvine Park

E. E. Campbell, president of the Orange County Farm bureau, and Norman M. Blaney, secretary, greeted the conference at the Irvine Orange County park. The delegates were the guests of the farm centers at a picnic lunch.

Following lunch, the conference proceeded to the San Joaquin Fruit company ranch, to see mature avocado plantings. C. V. Newman, manager of the ranch and president of the Calavo Growers association, discussed avocado cultural and marketing problems, stressing reduced cultivation practice, fruit thinning and fertilization. There are 250 acres of avocados on this ranch, one of the largest plantings in the state; there are 600 acres in Orange county, mostly of the Fuerte variety.

Windbreaks were discussed here, too, and a systematic planting was seen. Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg explained that in some districts protection from the wind is necessary and the Agricultural Extension service has conducted a survey in Orange county to determine the economic status of windbreak protection in relation to citrus production. The findings showed that windbreaks improved the yield per acre and the quality. On equal acreages of similar exposure and other factors, the following yields were obtained: protected—total production, 205,125 boxes, first grade, 109,284 boxes; unprotected—total production, 201,314; first grade, 101,026.

The eucalyptus, the farm advisor said, is best suited to Orange county conditions; he outlined good windbreak management as including regular irrigation, application of organic fertilizer and periodical root cutting.

At Packing House

At the Irvine Valencia Growers Packing house, just completed, the members of the Travel conference were shown what Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg said was a modern plant of this kind. Methods of packing were demonstrated, and the delegates were shown the disinfection of picking packing boxes and bags, a new department to prevent the distribution of insect pests and diseases through this source.

The 1928 census shows 41,000 acres of bearing Valencias in Orange county, Wahlberg said, and 11,000 acres not yet in bearing. The Orange County Farm bureau has an active Citrus Growers department, headed by C. V. Newman.

W. R. Schoonover, citrus specialist of the University of California Agricultural Extension service, spoke on the Valencia situation here. He said the growers of Valencias, according to a survey made by Dr. H. R. Wellman of the Agricultural Extension service, are in a good position.

Persimmon Production

Long pruning as applied to persimmon production was discussed at the McFadden-Walker ranch, where there are 160 acres interplanted with citrus. Long pruning, Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg, said, gives the best results in yield and size. Counts made last year gave these results:

Long pruned, open vase, 660 fruits; long pruned, center leader, 502; short pruned-open vase, 401; long pruned, mixed, *93.

A. J. McFadden, president of the Southern California Persimmon Growers' association, and one of the owners of the ranch, explained the formation of this newest co-operative, which is operating in Orange, Los Angeles and Riverside counties, handling about 80 per cent of the crop.

The Inter-County Persimmon Growers' department of the Farm Bureau was instrumental, it was said, in the formation of this marketing organization.

Citrus Irrigation

Citrus irrigation, citrus production studies and water measurement were taken up at the Ross Shaffer place, near Tustin. A study of water usage by mature orange trees is being conducted here by Prof. S. H. Beckett, of the division of irrigation investigations and practice, of the University of California College of Agriculture; hundreds of soil moisture determinations were made in this experiment last year. The agricultural extension service has shown, the conference was told, that excessive use of water is detrimental to citrus growth and production; the use of the soil auger was recommended as the best means of guiding irrigation practice in the orchard.

The 1928 orange cost of production records made under the direction of L. F. Fluharty, extension specialist in farm management, confirm field observations on the use of irrigation waters, Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg said.

Cultivation costs in the citrus grove have generally been excessive, it was said at the demonstration. Field observations, packing house records and cost studies all point to the fallacy of excessive cultivation.

Ross Shaffer, owner of the grove, told of his experience in revised cultivation practice and the visible benefits derived from less cultivation. For one thing, he said, he is getting better water penetration since reducing his cultivation operations, thus getting a better distribution of nitrates through the root zone. Shaffer is chairman of the Farm Bureau Agricultural Education committee and a project leader in the Extension Service scaly bark control demonstration.

A demonstration of water measurement was conducted here by Assistant Farm Advisor W. M. Cory. This project, he said, aims first to enable the operator to check the efficiency of the irrigating plant, and second to permit more intelligent use of the power requirements 20 per cent, by replacing a defective part.

At the H. J. Mabury ranch at Tustin, the last field stop of the Travel conference was to see a demonstration in the removal of crowded trees in a nut grove, spray tests for blight control, and the operation of a walnut dehydration plant.

MOTHERS WILL BE GUESTS AT LEGION SESSION

While individual members of Santa Ana American Legion post, No. 131, will entertain their mothers as special guests at tomorrow night's dinner in Legion hall, at 6:30, all gold star mothers and wives in the city will be guests of honor at the Legion itself, in recognition of Mothers' day, Sunday, May 12. With them will be entertained Mrs. Fannie M. Reeves, or "Mother Reeves" as she is known by the post, and Mrs. Myrtle Cain, president of the Legion auxiliary.

The Hon. Joe Burke has been chosen as speaker of the evening and will present the Mothers' day address. Special musical features will signal the post's participation in Music week events in the city and have been arranged under the direction of Lester Steinkopf, entertainment chairman. The first number will be by the girls' quartet of the Orange County School of Fine Arts, in Anaheim. Miss Wilma Silver will be accompanist for the members, who are the Misses Ruth and Edna Hannigan.

MUCH INTEREST IN DRIVE FOR WELFARE FUND

Committees in charge of the campaign sponsored by the 40 and 8 society of Orange county to raise funds for the work the society is conducting among the under-privileged children of the county reported this morning that much interest is being evidenced in the race for the selection of "Miss Orange County" and in the Better Baby show, which are being featured in the campaign.

The young women who are competing for the title are hard at work garnering votes, each assisted by a campaign manager.

Nearly 200 babies have been registered with the committee in charge of registrations for the Better Baby show, which will take place the last week in May. Entries for this event will close as soon as a total of 300 is reached, as facilities will not be available to care for more than that number.

The committee announced that any baby in Orange county under 3 years of age is eligible for entry and that registration may be made in the Legion hall, Santa Ana, either in person or by mail or phone.

Awards to the winners of the "Miss Orange County" contest and the baby show will be made at the 40 and 8 Charity ball, to be held in the American Legion hall, Orange, on June 3.

S. A. CHAMBER DECIDES NOT TO INCREASE DUES

Increase of membership in the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, with the annual dues to remain at their present low figure, was considered more valuable by the board of directors of the civic body than an increase of dues with the membership remaining stationary.

Therefore a report, offered this morning at the semi-monthly meeting of the board of directors, by W. A. Proctor, chairman of the membership committee, met with special enthusiasm.

Proctor enlarged on his plans for a whirlwind campaign, in which prominent business men of the city who are not identified with the chamber will be approached and brought into the fold. A group of 50 workers has been requested by the committee to give Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings to this work. It is to be the aim of the committee not only to bring in approximately 1000 men who do not but who should belong, but at the same time to help clear up the remaining indebtedness of $5500 which is against the chamber's name.

Dr. C. D. Ball, ex-assemblyman from this district, approached the directors to request some action on the matter of annexation, especially with reference to Glorietta. He reminded the members that in the election, last October, they were defeated by only four votes and that the time now was ripe for annexation operations, also that it was a legitimate means of increasing the city's population and placing it in the desired classification of a city of the second class.

Berle Morthland called attention, in this connection, to the advisability of annexing the narrow strip along Chapman avenue, from Flower street west to El Portal.

SAYS HUSBAND THREW DISHES ABOUT HOUSE

The marriage of Dorothy Lee and Stanley C. Lee, in Honolulu, under bright Hawaiian skies, had passed under the cloud of divorce proceedings today. Mrs. Lee brought suit against her husband, charging him with having an un-governable temper. They were married in Honolulu in August, 1925, the complaint said.

The complaint stated that Lee threw dishes and furniture about the house. He left Mrs. Lee on Sept. 13, 1928, according to the complaint, and was arrested shortly afterward in Salinas with a stolen car, serving a short jail term there.

Mrs. Lee asked to be awarded custody of three minor children. Her complaint stated that, in seven months, Lee had sent her $40 for their support and pointed out that this was after she had given him $50 from her own savings some time previously. She asked the court to order Lee to pay a reasonable sum for support of the children. The complaint was filed through Morris Cain, Santa Ana attorney.

UTILIZE WASTE COAL

LONDON, May 8.—In a lonely spot in South Wales a carefully guarded experiment is under way in the conservation of waste coal, known as small coal or "duff."

Runners of the experiments are that the coal is being separated from the dirt and graded into sizes from small grains to "flour." The "flour" probably will be mixed with a heavy oil and used for heating.

A car that simply refuses to grow old

You have surmised, perhaps, that the reference is to the Lincoln. This fine car seems to achieve, if possible, even more dignity and style with time — although you really cannot judge a Lincoln's age by anything but the height of its owner's regard for it.

One reason why the Lincoln so bravely holds off wear is that it is, from end to end, a precision-built car. In many manufacturing operations accuracy must stay within limits of 1/5000 of an inch! Such minute respect for perfection is rewarded, naturally, by years and years of silent, care-free motoring. Yet Lincolns with only a few thousand miles of service can occasionally be purchased at extremely advantageous prices.

A few such Lincolns are now to be seen on our floor. Every one is in perfect mechanical condition. We are always glad to demonstrate them to you, without the slightest obligation. Drop in today.

INSPECTION OF AIR TRAVEL MARKERS WILL BRING PARTY OF DISTINGUISHED MEN HERE

Santa Ana will entertain a distinguished group of men, Saturday afternoon, when the party making a tour of inspection of Southern California airports and airway markers in co-operation with the Guggenheim Foundation for the Promotion of Aeronautics will make one of three scheduled stops here.

The tour, which will be sponsored by the aeronautical section of the California Development association and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce in planes furnished by the Western Airway Express, will be for the purpose of gathering data for the preparation of a new airways map of Southern California and to inspect the landing fields that possibly will be used by visitors to the Shrine convention arriving by airplane and the system of airway markers recently installed by the Southern Counties Gas company from Santa Barbara to Newport Beach.

Rear Adm. Henry B. Butler, who on May 21 will assume command of the naval air forces on the Pacific coast, will be in the party. Other distinguished members of the group will be Dr. Robert A. Milliken, president of the California Institute of Technology and western director for the Guggenheim Foundation; Major Young and Captain Parkin, of the U. S. department of commerce; F. H. Byrnes and A. F. Bridge, vice presidents of the Southern Counties Gas company; LeRoy Edwards, director general of the national Shrine convention; George Finley, editor of Western Gas, and Walter D. Thurber, of the aeronautical section of the California Development association.

A number of newspaper correspondents and motion picture men also will be included in the personnel of the party.

The system of airway markers just completed by the gas company is regarded as one of the most notable contributions to aviation ever made by a public utilities company.

Following dinner, President Honer gave a brief talk, in which he outlined the accomplishments of the exchange during the last year. W. J. Kelly, as program chairman, presented Honer with a desk set, a gift from the members in appreciation of his services last year.

Vocal numbers were presented by Hugh Rannels, accompanied by Miss Allen Lair; Maurice Phillips, Miss Audra Schmid, Miss Dorothy McDonald, A. C. Hunt and Miss Mary Lois Reed. Harry Garstang was accompanist for Phillips, Hunt and Miss Reed.

agrees with MADAME JACOBSON on this 2-minute complexion treatment

"A lather made with Palmolive Soap, massaged gently into the skin will not only stimulate the complexion . . . but the emollient effect of palm and olive oils have the most beneficial effect."

EDNA PAINE, Proprietor
BETTY BEAUTY SHOPPE

Madame Bertha Jacobson has taught the essentials of beauty culture to many of the world's most celebrated beauty scientists.

At 11/12 Dover Street, in London's select Westend, is the Maison de Beauté Pompadour, Ltd., presided over by Madame Bertha Jacobson. Here, for the past 22 years, Madame Jacobson has helped to solve the beauty problems of London's smartest women.

A priceless formula embodying the precious oils of palm and olive, famous since the days of Cleopatra for prolonging health and beauty.

"I urge my clients to use only the soap blended of palm and olive oils. It provides that absolute skin cleanliness which must be the foundation of beauty."

Bertha Jacobson

11/12 DOVER STREET, LONDON, W. 1

ROYALTY and the smart women of London have, for years, entrusted all their beauty problems to Madame Bertha Jacobson, of London's select Westend.

After 22 years' experience as beauty dictator, Madame Jacobson turns to one of the simplest of all beauty treatments for home use.

Madame Jacobson's advice

"To enable my clients to safeguard their complexions — to retain radiant skin texture," says Madame Jacobson, "I urge them to use no soap other than Palmolive, as I have found that the bland oils of which this soap is made provide the absolute skin cleanliness which must be the foundation of beauty. At the same time," she says, "I warn them of all the harsh effects of soaps not made exclusively of these oils."

In these brief phrases, London's chief exponent of beauty culture voices an opinion held by specialists on skin care all over the world.

Why palm and olive oils

The poisonous and dangerous secretions of dirt and dust, of make-up and cream which find their way deep into the pores must be removed, Jacobson will tell you. Palm and olive oils, as they are blended in Palmolive Soap, act to soften the skin, to cleanse the pores, to refresh the natural coloring. They provide the natural way to skin beauty.

In America this is, of course, well known. Leading Edna Paine, proprietor of the Betty Beauty Shoppe, is well known to the fashionable women of this city. Her photograph and that of her smart shop are shown above. She says: "I heartily agree with the world's leading beauty experts that foundation cleansing of the skin with Palmolive Soap is necessary if one wishes to have a beautiful skin. The smartest women of Santa Ana, patrons of my beauty salon, are urged to do this with Palmolive Soap twice a day.

"A lather made with Palmolive Soap, massaged gently into the skin will not only stimulate the complexion in a healthful way but the emollient effect of palm and olive oils have the most beneficial effect."

specialists advise the Palmolive method of skin care wherever beauty culture is practiced.

This treatment is prescribed by Madame Jacobson, night and morning: make a creamy lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water. With both hands massage this well into the skin 2 minutes, allowing it to penetrate the pores. Then rinse, first with warm water, gradually with colder. A final rinse with ice water is refreshing as an astringent.

Madame Jacobson, in her London salon; Lina Cavallieri, in Paris; Pessl, in Vienna; Elise Bock, in Berlin — all over the world specialists in beauty care recommend Palmolive, which is the leading soap in the United States and 48 other countries.

COLD WEATHER DELAYS LIMA BEAN PLANTING

According to information received today from reliable sources, the planting of lima beans was begun the middle of last week. Extreme cold was said to have been the cause for the slight delay in planting this year.

Blackeye beans have not as yet been generally planted, although there are a few coming up. The red kidney beans have been planted, but reports declare the season too early to determine the crop.

Now is being cut and ranchers expect to start threshing barley within the next two or three weeks.

Beet prospects are said on the whole to be good. It is, however, somewhat early for their general planting.

Soil is said to be in excellent condition when consideration is given to the light rainfall, the dry season and the continuous westerly winds, which have a tendency to suck up moisture which may be in the ground.

MIX INDICTED ON CONSPIRACY CHARGE

LOS ANGELES, May 8.—(UP)—Tom Mix, motion picture western star, was indicted here today on a charge of conspiring to defraud the government of income taxes.

In the first conspiracy charge, Mix, Eugene Ford, his brother-in-law, and J. Marjorie Berger, income tax counselor, were accused of defrauding the government of $41,149.57.

A second conspiracy count accused Mix, Jack Hill, his publicity agent, and Miss Berger, of withholding $70,964.54.

Miss Berger, indicted recently for proposing falsification of returns by film stars, was named in a separate indictment charging her with aiding and advising Mix to make his false returns.

The FUMIGATOR

MAYBE THE GOOD DIE YOUNG, BUT IT ISN'T ALWAYS THEIR FAULT.

As a life insurance man Mr. Coolidge isn't likely to make the mistake of talking himself out of a sale.

A silly technicality of the law suddenly becomes one of those great bulwarks of liberty when you get into a little jam and have to use it.

It's going to be awful on somebody when the farmers get so much relief they won't bother any more about going to the polls.

DALLAS, Tex., May 8.—Playing par golf today, the ex-Governors of Oklahoma and Louisiana attribute their fine showing to the fact that neither had to worry about getting back to the office.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The theory of why several men of Scotch ancestry have attained the Presidency has been worked out by economists here. It is the highest of office within the gift of the people.

A MOTHER'S DAY RIME

When you come from far away, listen now to what I say, Bring a gift—some little present—just for mother: She'll appreciate your thought, matters not how much you've brought Along for dad and sister and for baby brother.

When you have a little fun, after daily tasks are done, Plan some joy—some little pleasure—for all mother: If you only knew the truth, she's still living in her youth, There are always little sparks that age can't smother.

When some trouble comes along, and the world seems gone dead wrong, Have some faith—some little trust—in your dear mother: You'll find roses at your feet, life is never quite so sweet When you tell her first before you tell some other.

When you have some love to spare, and you give away a share, Give a little—give a world full—all to mother: You'll get true love in return, more than you can ever earn From your mother, for you'll never have another.

You've got to hand it to Santa Ana for putting over a good music week. It's half over and we haven't heard of a discord yet.

Everybody's playing Yo-Yo. Southern California is a proven spot for out-door yo-yo spinning. One good point about them is that they don't make any noise. Another fortunate thing, they don't require any brains to play them. They're the most innocent diversion we've seen in Orange county for many a day. Is there a little Yo-Yo in your home? If not, the mirror and gold fishbowl are safe.

Orange County Shrine club members, who plan to reserve places in the Los Angeles Coliseum for the Shrine national convention, in June, have only a few days remaining until reservations will be closed, according to announcement made today at Shrine club headquarters, 216 West Third street, Santa Ana.

A block of the most desirable seats in the Coliseum was reserved for the nobles, but demand has been so great that there are only a few seats remaining unsold. These are obtainable at club headquarters, in the First National bank of Santa Ana, the First National bank of Orange, and from Otto L. Evans, of Fullerton.

Advance information, regarding plans for the convention, would indicate that the convalesce will be the biggest event ever held in Masonic circles. Since no part of the entertainment program will be held outside the Coliseum, Shriners and their families will find an early selection of seats advisable.

DEBENTURES IN FARM RELIEF PLAN WIN OUT

meil, Tydings, Tyson, Walsh, Mont., and Wheeler.

Paired for, Democrats 2, King and Walsh, Mass.

Paired against, 2—Democrats 2, Kendrick; Farmer-Labor, 1, Shipstead.

There was a flurry of debate before the roll call, although Senator Borah of Idaho did not make his expected speech. An amendment by Tyson of Tennessee was adopted putting cotton and tobacco products under the eligible products.

Norbeck of South Dakota questioned Bingham of Connecticut, who read the senate the 10 objections to the plan made by President Hoover. Norbeck argued that the Republican party had promised to make the tariff effective to the farmer and the adoption of the debenture project was the only way it could be done.

Immediately after the roll call the senate went into executive session delaying until tomorrow or later a final vote on the bill itself.

The break from the president's warning against the debenture plan was widened just before voting when Senator Hiram Johnson, Republican, from Mr. Hoover's home state, announced his enthusiastic support of the bill would do just what "my Republican brethren do not want to do—put the government into the business of helping the farmer, and that is why I am for it."

Without mentioning the name of the chief executive, Johnson spoke of the use during the last campaign of the cry—"agriculture must be placed on an equality with industry." He charged that the bill without the debenture plan would put the government into the farming business more than any government had ever been in any business.

"It is price fixing," he said, "it is barter and sale. It is putting the government into every conceivable business under the sun."

"I say it is these things. If it means what it says, and I must assume that it does, although it is ambiguous."

"It does everything the Republican party has been against."

"But there is one provision that does the job. There is one provision that brings relief and aid. You may call the debenture a bounty, a bonus or a gift, but there it is in plain unmistakable language and every one agrees it will do the job. The question is whether you want to do the job when it touches the tariff. I do."

Johnson said this is "the moronic era of the age of bunk" in the United States. He pointed out how a night club hostess had been arrested recently in New York, "amid enthusiastic acclaim of many people." He said the house recently had "applauded death," referring to the applause given when announcement was made that a suspected rum-runner had been killed. "And then recently before a great press association in New York, which waited in fear and trembling, the greatest executive in all the world, solemnly declared himself against crime, and the editors of the great press association arose in all their majesty and cheered," he added.

MONTGOMERY CASE WILL BE DROPPED

In view of the fact that the district court of appeals reversed judgment in the J. W. Montgomery case on the grounds that there was not sufficient evidence on which to base a conviction, without remanding for a new trial, the local court has lost its jurisdiction and will not prosecute again, according to announcement made today by district attorney, Bert West.

West said: "I believed before the trial that the man was guilty and nothing has since come up to prove that he was not. I believed he was guilty, I still believe he is guilty, and if the case had been remanded for a new trial it would probably have been tried again."

NEWS OF LOCAL SCHOOLS

JULIA LATHROP

The Lathrop faculty was treated to a delicious luncheon on Tuesday served by the Boys' cooking club under the supervision of Mrs. Ethel Sink. Before the luncheon, the boys marched around the room in their white aprons and chef's caps. Everything was served with such speed and the food was so delicious that the teachers voted it one of the best of all the luncheons that have been served by Mrs. Sink's classes. The menu, which consisted of creamed veal and peas in baked potatoes, buttered carrots, tomato gelatin salad and ginger bread with whipped cream, was prepared by the boys of the club. Boys chosen to cook and serve the luncheon were John Rabe, Donald Boyd, Preston Piper, Richard Holmes, Edwin Jones, Leroy Levens, Marvin King and Malone Holmes.

School Exhibit

On May 18 Lathrop will present a school exhibit and issue invitations to all parents and those interested in the school for a visiting day. At this time samples of regular work will be shown throughout and some departments are planning special drills for the evening. Demonstrations of the work accomplished by the various clubs will be offered at this time also.

The Lathrop branch library has added 61 new books to its shelves. Among these are "The World on One Leg" by Ellery and "Back Trails" from the "Middle Border" by Hamlin Garland.

Boys in the H.S. vocations class under Miss Hazel Thrasher visited the telephone office where they were shown the intricacies of the switchboards.

The banking score for this week shows Miss Nora's Reid's class still in the lead with a percentage of 55 per cent. Miss L. Thrasher's class comes next with 38 per cent, then Mrs. Drake's class with 28.5 per cent and Mr. Cain's class with 21.7 per cent.

Wins Prize

Lathrop is proud to have won third prize in the clean-up parade last Monday. Miss Cornell and Miss Zolman had charge of the organization and marching order of Lathrop's contribution to the parade.

Some very interesting original work has been done in Miss Corson's Low 9 English class in newspaper work. This takes the form of the "Low Nine Tribune," all of which has been compiled and typed by members of the class. In recognition of its efforts, Miss Corson presented the class with a "treat" at the end of the assignment.

Dorothy Haver has returned to Lathrop after being in Los Angeles for a year.

The class in sheet metal has received 600 pounds of molding sand and 6 old aluminum automobile castings. This provides the boys with material they have needed for some time and they are enthusiastically starting work along this line.

Birds and their nests have been studied in the nature study room. The teacher gave students their choice of having a test or giving a report on some California bird. Most of the class chose the report.

P. T. A. Program

The P. T. A. program was given last Tuesday evening in the kindergarten. This consisted of songs by the glee club, piano selection, a violin number, three pieces by the orchestra, a reading and a play, "How the Story Grew." The children went in the afternoon and the parents in the evening. The total amount of money received was $51.70. This was added to the P. T. A. fund.

—Rogers Brothers.

The upper grade pupils are working hard for the music contest. All but three in the 6A got 100 per cent this morning.

ARTESIA

For the month of April, Artesia school's average of 63 190/355 per cent depositing was the highest in the city. This percentage means that the school will retain the championship pennant for the month of May. Mrs. Smith's third grade was the only room with 100 per cent on Wednesday, but many other rooms had higher rankings than previously.

This week, silver certificates of attainment in athletics were presented to those boys and girls who have taken part in interschool activities. Some have already completed the 100 point requirement for gold certificates and others lack only a few points of this goal.

FRANCES WILLARD

W. C. T. U. Contest

Jack And Ethyl To Follow Trail Of Lewis, Clark

The story of Lewis and Clark and their famous expedition into the Oregon wastes more than a century ago is universally known, but Jack and Ethyl, the Associated Motor Mates, have found a new version which they will interpret for the radio audience tuned in to NBC system stations from 8 to 8:30 tonight.

Their story, for the "Roads to Romance" broadcast, deals with the untimely service to Lewis and Clark of an Indian maiden, Sacajawea. The explorers owed their lives and success to Sacajawea, legend has it.

"Roads to Romance" will be broadcast through stations KHQ, Spokane; KOMO, Seattle; KGW, Portland; KGO, Oakland; KPO, San Francisco, and KFI, Los Angeles.

AMATEUR NETWORK EXPANDED BY ARMY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—Military efficiency and the enthusiasm of the amateur operator have been combined in the expansion of the army amateur radio system to provide a national network of communications should disaster break any link in the wire circuits of the country.

Particularly is this true in the Ninth Corps area, comprising the Pacific coast states, according to an announcement from the headquarters of Gen. John L. Hines, commanding the area.

At the present time there are between two and three thousand amateur radio stations on the coast. In every state with the exception of Wyoming are net control stations working directly with these amateur stations and with the corps area net control station WDFR belonging to J. Von Tillow, San Francisco.

California is divided into two sections, northern California radio traffic being handled by W. A. Hammond, of Oakland, and southern California in charge of Don C. Wallace, of Long Beach.

You can't compromise with Pride of Ownership

The owner of a De Soto Six has a sound basis for his pride of ownership—he is driving exactly the car he wants to drive—a Chrysler-built car.

Cars of lower price attracted him not at all. He knows they lack many of his essential demands. And he didn't need to buy a more expensive car because he found complete satisfaction—full realization of his personal standards of performance, comfort, economy and durability—in the De Soto Six.

Here is a car that is literally built to order for those whose budgets are not unlimited—a car that even the most discriminating motorist can own without either sacrificing his pride or straining his pocketbook.

Before deciding on your purchase, give the Chrysler-built De Soto Six your most critical inspection. You will find all the advantages and comforts, all the zestful driving, and all the pride of ownership that are associated in your mind only with cars of much higher price.

Placentia Lets Light Contract

PLACENTIA, May 8.—The contract for the new ornamental lighting system on Santa Fe street was let at the regular meeting of the Placentia city council Monday evening, going to Walker and Martin of Los Angeles. Their price for the work is $2,435.

Work is to start immediately and the contract calls for ornamental lighting standards on Santa Fe street, between Walnut street and Bradford avenue. It is understood that a few other standards are to be put up outside the district.

Other business to come before the council was the reading for the second time of the ordinance establishing the naming of certain streets and the numbering of houses.

It was voted to hold a Clean-Up week beginning May 27 and City Clerk Nellie Cline was instructed to write a letter to the auxiliary of the Placentia Legion post, as that organization had expressed a desire to assist in this work.

Contract On Beach City Hall Given

SEAL BEACH, May 8.—C. Haverland, of Long Beach, was awarded the general contract for the erection of the new city hall in Seal Beach at an adjourned meeting of the city council last night. The wiring contract went to Hartman Electric company, Long Beach; plumbing to Robert McMin, Seal Beach; painting to W. B. Walters, Long Beach, and action was deferred on the heating contract to the first meeting in June.

Robert McMin, Seal Beach, and the Williams Radiator company, Long Beach, entered bids for heating that showed $50 difference, with that of the local man as the highest.

According to the terms of the contracts work is to begin within 10 days after the awarding of the contracts and to be concluded within 95 working days.

According to the plans the entire building will be completed, including the auditorium on the second floor. Very little surplus is available for equipment but the most essential will be provided for and the remainder added in the future. The contracts awarded totaled $34,537.

PETITION FOR ANNEXATION IS GIVEN COUNCIL

FULLERTON, May 8.—A petition signed by 58 property owners in Lansdowne, which desires annexation to Fullerton, was presented to the city council last night.

The petition for annexation represents about two-thirds of the total vote in the 40-acre tract west of Fullerton. The petition was referred to the city engineer for a check on the petition signatures. A special election will then be held in the Lansdowne district, and if the voters signify their desire to join with Fullerton, the city council will either act on the annexation or will submit the proposition to the voters of Fullerton.

A new member may be added to the Fullerton police department within the next month if the appeal of Chief of Police J. M. Pearson gets the final sanction of the councilmen. Pearson told of the need of one officer at once and the need for two additional ones within a short time. He declared that the department has been manned with eight members for the past five years, during which time the population of Fullerton has doubled. The council will decide the action to be taken at the next meeting.

The city council gave sanction to the summer playground program when the matter was presented by Hubert Dawson of the Kiwanis club. A regular appropriation will be made to the activity. O. A. Knighbaum, councilman, was reappointed to the summer playground commission.

The council will advertise for bids for the sale of the city property on North Spadra road at Whiting avenue.

The paving contract accepted by the council will reach the sum of approximately $8,300 for the whole job, according to City Superintendent C. C. Bonbrake.

SAN CLEMENTE C. OF C. PLANS P.-T. A. DINNER

SAN CLEMENTE, May 8.—More than 350 members of the Parent-Teacher association of the county will be entertained in San Clemente May 30 by the Spanish village organization and the chamber of commerce. The chamber at its board session yesterday noon voted to stage a barbecue lunch on the beach for the visitors. The women of the P.-T. A. here will serve the food. Dan Mulherson, president of the San Clemente chamber, will be the chef.

Mulherson and Capt. H. H. Hammer, secretary, will leave San Clemente Friday to attend the legislative session at Sacramento. They have an appointment with Governor Young for Monday. The two men are going to Sacramento to carry on a fight to secure for this city transportation to Long Beach along the Coast route. An application by the Pickwick Steamship system to the railroad commission to establish a beach line was turned down. San Clemente, along with other coast cities and the Orange County Coast association, is waging a war to have this decision reversed.

George A. Furguson was appointed chairman of the membership and dues committee of the chamber by the president.

FULLERTON BOARD SEEKS DATA FOR WATER PROJECT

FULLERTON, May 8.—Realizing the importance of having better water pressure and more water for domestic purposes in Fullerton, the city council last night authorized the city engineer, C. M. Thorpe, and the water superintendent, William Gillette, to prepare at once detailed plans and estimates as well as a complete report of recommendations for a water project for Fullerton.

The rapid growth of Fullerton has brought the attention of the council to the fact that a higher reservoir must be constructed soon and more wells sunk. The council discussed the fact that more than 30 residences are under construction on the hills, and that before many more homes are erected on the hills, more pressure is needed. A tank carrying 50,000 barrels of water, which was erected on Northgate Heights three years ago, supplies water to the high sections of the hill tracts, but with such a small capacity, the fire danger is greater, it was declared. The council declared that if a severe earthquake should occur and the main reservoir was destroyed, the small tank would not last more than a few hours.

ORANGE CHIEF IN DENIAL OF PAROLE CHARGE

ORANGE, May 8.—In a statement made following the meeting of the city council here yesterday, Chief of Police B. F. Richards stated that he was not responsible for the parole of a person mentioned by Councilman V. A. Wood, when the councilman presented a resolution for the removal of Richards.

For the second time since his election a year ago, Wood asked for the removal of the chief. Wood's resolution was seconded by Councilman George Shoemaker, who asked the chief if he wished to explain anything before he seconded the motion to adopt the resolution. The chief refused to make any statement. The motion was lost.

Wood brought charges that the chief was unfit for office owing to the fact that he had signed a petition for the parole of a former resident of Orange who was about to be committed to the Orange county jail on a drunk charge and had not reported to Justice Morrison the fact that the parole of the offender had been broken.

No names were mentioned in the council meeting either by the chief or the councilman as to the identity of the man. Richards says that the parole of the man was up at the time of his last offense here which resulted in his being asked to leave the city in lieu of a jail sentence. The petition to which Wood referred, Richards declared, was signed by many prominent men from Orange and Santa Ana.

PLACENTIA GETS SHOW INVITATION

PLACENTIA, May 8.—An invitation to Placentia to exhibit at the ninth annual California Valencia Orange show was brought to the Placentia Chamber of Commerce Tuesday by George Reid, manager of the show and secretary of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce.

James Tuffree spoke on objections to the show because of the use of exhibits as an advertising medium. Others agreed that this was their chief objection against showing, but thought that Placentia should exhibit. It was voted to refer the matter to the publicity committee, of which Frank Rosapaw is chairman, and the committee is to report back at the next meeting.

Harry May, secretary of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, was introduced.

Prof. L. O. Culp, vice principal of the Fullerton union high school, was present, and announced the annual school exhibit to be held May 24.

ORANGE MAN'S AMBITION FOR BEES REALIZED

ORANGE, May 8.—The buzzing of thousands of bees in music in the ears of Dr. J. B. Sutherland, local dentist, Dr. Sutherland raises bees for exercise, the care and attention demanded by the bees taking the place of the golf game of most professional men, he declares.

Dr. Sutherland has been a dentist for 30 years and a keeper of bees for the past five years, the bees coming as the culmination of a desire which was incited in childhood, when he happened to find a bee catalogue. Although but eight or nine years of age when he first became interested in bees, Dr. Sutherland never abandoned the idea of becoming a bee keeper.

At the present time he has 22 swarms of bees and expects to increase this number to 30 by fall. Last year he sold to wholesale houses in Los Angeles and San Francisco over a half ton of honey.

While bees have individuality they care nothing for the individual bee and will put to death any bee that stands in the way of the progress or well being of the hive. Workers live but six weeks in summer, he says.

Beekeepers, the dentist says, prefer blondes. Light colored queens are much more in favor than their darker sisters. Queens may be easily distinguished, one from the other, he declares, some being slender and some of the "short and fat type."

Dr. Sutherland had difficulty in displacing a queen from a swarm this week. One of his queens had a strain of wild or black bee in her veins and was raising bees which kept this strain so much that the hive was very troublesome. After killing the queen he replaced her with a light colored queen. This bee was promptly killed by the swarm.

This happened three times and the bees began raising a queen of their own. Dr. Sutherland circumvented the indignant workers by placing the cell of a light colored bee in the cell they had prepared, the queen provided by him being accepted when she was hatched.

Bees become accustomed to the persons who handle them, says Dr. Sutherland, but will sting anyone who disturbs their hive.

STARS BEGIN TITLE DEFENSE TONIGHT

Frazier Stops Muskie: Chavez 'Comes Back'

FRISCO HEAVY IS TWELFTH TO LOSE TO WALLY

Frankie Muskie, San Francisco light heavy, lasted 10 rounds with Armando Emanuel. They fought January 2, 1929. Muskie battled Jimmy Slattery last summer in Buffalo, N. Y. Authentic records of the ring prove it. But Muskie acted like he never had fought a lick when he crawled in the Orange County Athletic club's hempen square to meet Wally Frazier here.

Certainly, Muskie never fought a lick last night. He covered before the straight-punching Hawthorne boy. He fell every other time Frazier fanned the air at him. Near the end, he was actually running with the speed lent to the legs of one afraid. The grand finale came in the fourth round when Referee Joe Rivers counting over Muskie's prostrate form when the fallen boxer's corner tossed in the towel.

Everything But Fight
Muskie did everything but fight. He hung on. He made frantic Sonnenberg tackles to save himself embarrassment. He sought the floor as the closest means of self-protection. It was neither a good nor a close bout. Frazier won the first three rounds decisively. Muskie was on the floor.

Wednesday To Be 'Fite Night' Here

Wednesday will be "Fite Night" at the Orange County Athletic club, beginning next week. H.T. Foust, promoter, announced this definitely today. Arrangements have not been completed for next week's show but it is understood that Jimmie Rivers, Jack Walker's star full-time welter, will oppose Hil Gill, conqueror of Billy Blake, in one of the feature spots.

Macias Not Discredited
Macias was not discredited in defeat. He showed willingness, courage and, in his own unorthodox way, a certain amount of skill. He was still swinging, like the wild man that he is, when Chavez beat him to the punch with the right hand that has led critics to predict a bright future for the Santa Ana Mexican schoolboy. It was the first time Macias ever was floored and twice before the knockout, once in the first and again in the third. Zenaydo Chavez and "Wild Man" Macias, two fighting welterweights, stole the show. They crammed more action into half a round than Frazier and Muskie put in four. Chavez, making a genuine comeback after a couple of disappointing performances, knocked Macias out with a short, overhand right cross to the jaw in the fifth round. They were to have gone eight.

Troy Sprint Star To Run Only Furlong

LOS ANGELES, May 8.—Charley Borah, U. S. C. track captain, who pulled a tendon in his leg while running against Frank Wykoff and a fast field in the 100 yard dash here last Saturday, plans to confine himself to the 220 yard dash in the future, he said today.

Borah is uncertain of his plans for competition this spring and early summer but believes that the 220 yard sprint will enable him to make a slower start and place less strain on the bad leg.

PREAKNESS AND DERBY DUE IN NEXT 10 DAYS

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, May 8.—Two of the classics of the American turf will be run within the next 10 days.

The rich Preakness stakes will take place Friday at Pimlico, Md., and the Kentucky Derby—blue ribbon event of all American horse races—will be contested for the fifty-fifth time a week from Saturday. Probably 20 horses, the outstanding three-year-olds of 1929, will go to the post in the two races.

Col. E. R. Bradley's Blue Larkspur rule the favorite for the Kentucky Derby. The son of Black Servant-Blossom Time won four out of seven races last year and beat Clyde Van Dusen, the little Man 'O' War gelding, in his only start this year at Lexington. Harry Payne Whitney's horses have triumphed two years hand-running in the Preakness and he probably will send the favorites to the post again this year.

Bargello and Beacon Hill which will run as the Whitney entry doubtless will be made top choice because of their victories in the Kings County and California Handicaps respectively, last Saturday at Jamaica, Long Island. After the Preakness they will go to Churchill Downs for the Derby.

Victorian, recently sold by Whitney, won the Preakness last year after a great stretch battle with Toro.

In 1927 Bostonian captured the Preakness, and another Whitney horse, Whiskery, which was later destined to capture the Derby, finished third.

Mrs. John D. Hertz's Reigh Count was favored to win the Derby last year and came through victorious. Hunch-players are using this as one of their arguments why Blue Larkspur won't win this year. They say this will be an outsider's year.

Another popular reason for hunch-players to shy at Blue Larkspur is the fact that the brown colt was the favorite for the Hopeful at Saratoga and the Furlity at Belmont Park last year and won neither.

Among the highly rated derby candidates are Baron Long's California sensation, Ervart; H. P. Headley's Paraphrase; Belle Isle stable's Upset Lad, winner of the Florida Derby at Miami; John J. Coughlin's Karl Eitel and E. B. McLean's Neddle.

DOES STARTING BLOCK ASSIST SPRINTERS?

ALLISS SHOOT SENSATIONAL 69 TO SNATCH BRITISH OPEN LEAD FROM LEO DIEGEL, U. S. HOPE

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 8.—Smashing the course record for Muirfield's championship links with an amazing 69, Percy Alliss, British professional, led the field of 108 in the first round of the British Open today. The Briton snatched the lead from Leo Diegel, the medalist, just when the American P. G. A. and Canadian Open champion had turned in a brilliant 71.

SHELL OIL IN EASY TWILIGHT LOOP VICTORY

The Shell Oil company, with good pitching and stalwart hitting, became one of the early season favorites in the Santa Ana Twilight league baseball derby today, following the runaway victory of the Royal Dutchmen, 16 to 5, over the Richfield Oilers in the Bowl yesterday.

While "Oil" Jones was limiting the Richfields to seven singles and whiffing seven in seven innings, his colleagues were hammering Win-bush all over the Bowl for 17 base knocks. Ora Sands led the attack with four for four and Jones and Ebersole hit three for four.

The Shell delegation scored in every inning except the second, collecting three in the third, fourth and sixth and four in the fifth.

Johnny Risko Is Beaten By Rocco

CLEVELAND, O., May 8.—Johnny Risko, today was back in the position he found himself after his defeat by Max Schmelling, by reason of his defeat by Emmet Rocco, young Italian heavyweight of Elwood City, Pa., here last night. Rocco won the referee's decision after 12 rounds of furious fighting—that found Risko exhausted and the young Italian almost as fresh as when he started.

Long Beach Would Join County Loop

Owing to difficulties encountered in the National league, Long Beach, one of the most powerful teams in Southern California, is anxious to join the Orange County Night Baseball league and probably will be admitted within the next day or two, according to George Peterkin, president of the Orange county circuit.

Internal strife has left Long Beach by itself in the National league and last night, after a general Southern California meeting at Riverside, Orange county's representatives were approached by Long Beach and "felt out" relative to entering the local district's race.

Peterkin said an emergency meeting of the Orange County league will be called within the next two days to consider the application unless affairs in the National league are ironed out.

SAINTS DEFEAT GARDEN GROVE: SCORE IS 5-4

Coach Bill Foote's Santa Ana high school baseball team took the measure of Garden Grove, 5 to 4, in a nip and tuck seven-inning encounter at Poly field yesterday afternoon. This will be Santa Ana's last practice before meeting South Pasadena here Friday in a Coast Preparatory league match.

The Saints did all their run-hitting and virtually all their hitting in the fourth and fifth frames. Johnston's single, passes to Youel and Wright, Reichstein's single and an error gave the locals three in the fourth. A pass to Hall, a single by Sullivan and a double by Johnston added a couple more in the fifth.

Johnston pitched the first four innings for the Saints and allowed two runs. Willcutt, who will toil against South Pasadena, pitched hitless ball for three rounds but the Chilpeppers made a pair in the fifth on two walks and an error.

Hinged To Iron Bar
The block, shown by arrow, is hinged to an iron bar which connects at right angles with another bar at the rear of the rubber. The rear bar is fastened in the ground by long spikes. Naturally, the block is above ground. Jack Elder of Notre Dame is demonstrating use of the starting block here. The inventor is the man with the pistol.

At most, it seems to most observers that the new method is little different from the old method. And perhaps the high officials will see it that way and list Simpson's name along with Drew and Kelly and Paddock and others as co-holder of the world record for the 100-yard dash.

Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the national A. A. U., was one of the officials of the Penn relays. He doesn't believe the starting block is an "unnatural advantage." And he favors recognition of Simpson's performance as official.

Four Outstanding Sprinters
It may be concluded, from events of the past few weeks, that the outstanding sprinters of this country are Simpson, Frank Wykoff of Glendale junior college, Charlie Borah of Southern California and Claude Bracey of Rice Institute. All have hit 9-5 seconds in the 100 this spring. Some more than once.

Three of these sprinters—Bracey, Simpson and Borah—are likely to face each other this summer in the L. C. 4-A games.

CHAMPS BATTLE GLENDALE: S. CLUB IMPROVE

Clad in their flaming new jerseys of crimson, the champions Southern California tonight begin where they left off last September. Facing the most ambitious schedule ever attempted by night baseball team, the Santa Ana Stars play Glendale at the Six and Olive street Bowl at 8 o'clock in the first game of a newly organized Inter-City conference.

Friday night they will swing into action again, meeting Gard Grove here in the initial combat of the always popular Orange County league.

The Glendale tussle will be test in more ways than one. It will not only sharpen the battle eyes of the champions and prepare them for later struggles with the big leaguers of the night baseball fraternity but it also will determine whether night baseball followers will pay 25 cents to see their favorite entertainment.

Entertaining clubs of the Inter-City conference, such as Glendale, Hollywood, Pasadena, Pomona and other colorful additions to the sport's growing list, the local association must pay a $25 guarantee for traveling and other expenses and when games in the league are played at home the tariff will be 25 cents. It will remain, as usual, at 10 cents for Santa Ana City and Orange County league games. The Stars will obtain the same $25 guarantee when they are on the road and the will go into the already exhausted treasury of the home association just as it will go out when the visitors come here.

Shrewd baseball men believe the Stars have a better balanced club than they boasted last season when they staggered through to victory over Long Beach and Riverside of the Southern California amateur title and almost beat Pinnone All-Stars, champions of the professional end of the game.

Pitching Staff Improved
Where the team had only Glen Stockbridge as a dependable pitcher in 1928 it now has Stockbridge and a high class assistant, "Zuse" Ochoa, a youngster but an experienced one with a smoking fast ball. Where the Stars had a youthful

Johnny Risko Is Beaten By Rocco

CLEVELAND, O., May 8.—Johnny Risko, today was back in the position he found himself after his defeat by Max Schmelling, by reason of his defeat by Emmet Rocco, young Italian heavyweight of Elwood City, Pa., here last night. Rocco won the referee's decision after 12 rounds of furious fighting—that found Risko exhausted and the young Italian almost as fresh as when he started.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

A group of representative men in Orange County have formed a corporation to operate in this County.

The organizers and supporters of this corporation are successful ranchers and citrus growers widely experienced in the various branches of the citrus industry. This group includes experts in soil, engineering, packing and growing. They are men of excellent reputations and with high financial and credit ratings.

The assets of the corporation are in Orange County. The property held is located in a most favorable district removed from the path of disastrous winds and entirely free from frosts. The development is situated in—

EL TORO—The New, Frostless, Windless Valencia Orange District

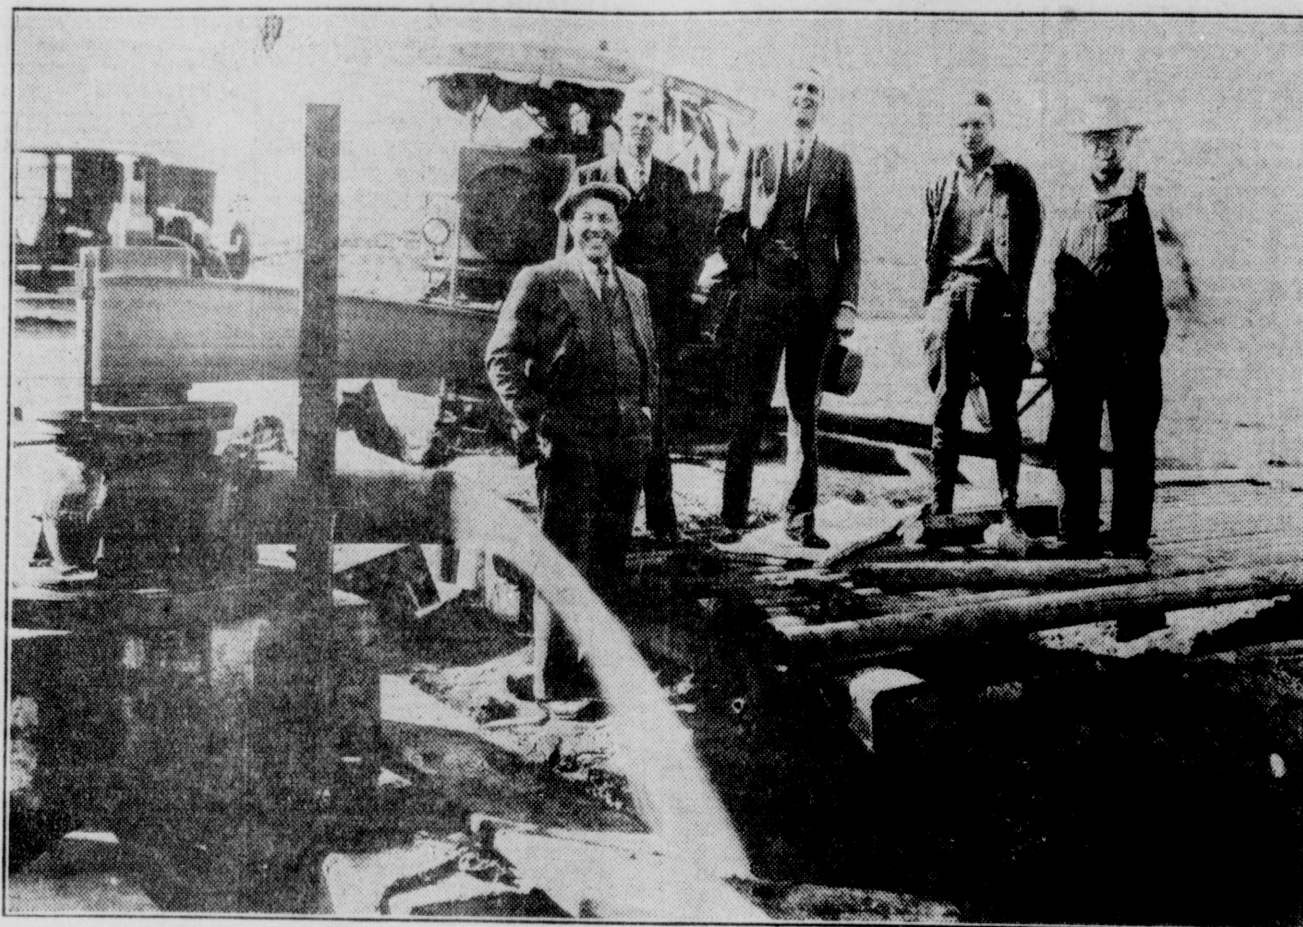

WHAT GROWERS IN THIS DISTRICT HAVE ACCOMPLISHED

Mr. Benny Osterman is the owner of a fine Valencia grove in the El Toro district. When the trees were only two years old Mr. Osterman sold 10 acres at $2500 per acre. He refused $3500 per acre for trees only four years old. Mr. Osterman has been able to take the profits that so quickly come from the development of properly located Valencia groves.

Another grove in the El Toro district belonging to Mr. Harvey Bennett has commanded a premium of over one cent per pound for the fruit produced for several years.

In the past few days acreage in the El Toro district has been sold as soon as planted at a reported price of $1650.00 per acre.

Frostless and protected from winds, free from scale and pests, owners of groves in this district are successful, indeed.

THIS IS WHAT MADE "IT" POSSIBLE

The picture shows one of the fine wells just completed on the property. This well alone produces more than enough water for irrigating the entire tract now held. These wells make development possible. The depth, fertility, and general excellence of the soil on which this water will be used has long been acknowledged. Water alone has been needed to make possible the full and profitable development of this rich district. The water has been produced—an abundance of it—and the development of the property has begun that will add its share to the citrus wealth produced by Orange County.

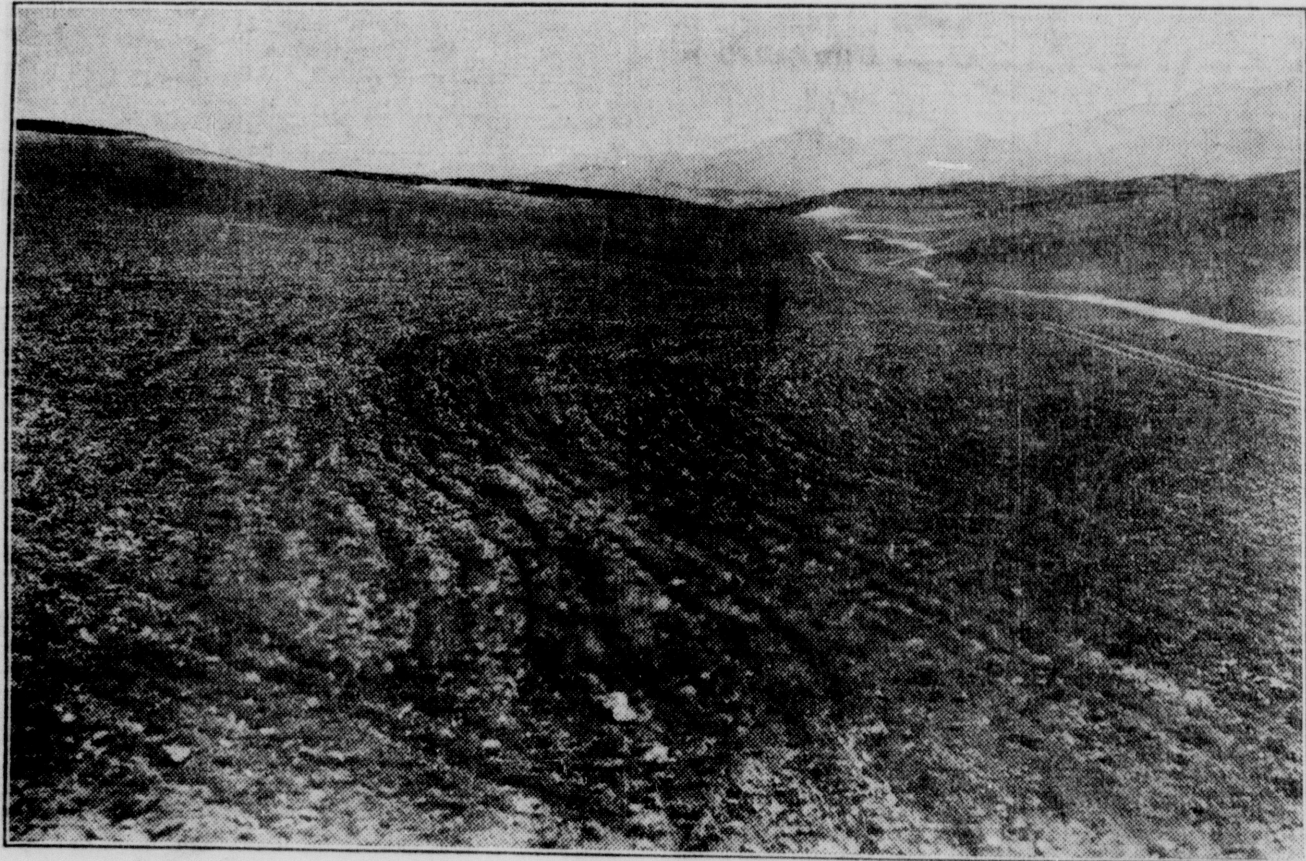

This is an endeavor to acquaint the investing public with a new economic and investment movement now under way.

Today farming is being done on an increasing scale by corporations. Only lately the press carried the news that a corporation farming a large amount of Kansas wheat acreage is paying dividends of 14½ per cent annually when the individual farmer of the same section cries for federal relief.

The cattle, steel, automobile, textile and railroad business is fast passing from private to corporate control. This is the day of the expert and specialized effort. Many people welded together in a corporation, accomplish more, make more, than the same number of people working individually.

This is the new trend in business and the new trend in the investment of funds.

An Orange County Investment of Unusual Merit

HERE'S WHERE IDLE DOLLARS MULTIPLY

This picture shows the tract now being prepared for planting to Valencias. Note the deep, rich, sandy loam soil. This is the ideal soil for the growing of citrus. Here your idle dollars can multiply through the development of this land to Valencia oranges. With an abundance of water already secured, your dollars will grow on this land through the ever-increasing price that is being paid for Valencia groves.

WE CAN'T SAY ALL JUST NOW— BUT:-

There are facts and figures—yours for the asking—that will surprise you. This Company is operating on a tried and proven plan. It has no competition in this County. The safety of the plan—the size of the profits that can and that will be made through it, are exceptional. We want to tell you of the men who have organized and have associated themselves with the corporation. We want to tell you of the plans, operations and accomplishments of the Company. You will realize the soundness of the investment when you get the facts. They will be freely given you without any obligation on your part. You are invited to make a most thorough investigation of the Company. Such an opportunity merits serious consideration and prompt acceptance. All data pertaining to the Company will be gladly given you by The Newton Company. Ask for it in person or by letter. All inquiries will receive careful and courteous attention. You should get the information now.

The Logical Place to Invest—

The Reason Why: The reasons why you should invest in Orange County Valencia development are many. Your money remains at home—in this proven, thriving district. The development takes place practically at your very doorstep. The operations are carried on by successful Orange county men. You can keep fully informed of the progress made at all times by frequent visits to the property and the office of the company. Your funds are not invested with strangers in remote districts. Neither are your funds invested in a company whose operations are scattered in distant states, or whose securities and holdings are affected by the uncertainties of the Stock Exchange. You know Orange county. You know the wealth that Valencia development has brought here. You may invest in the securities of this development company with entire confidence.

THE TRUE VALUE OF A DOLLAR IS ITS WORKING POWER

HOW ONE MAN'S DOLLARS WORKED

This is an actual photograph of one of the groves in the El Toro district adjoining our land. Four years ago these trees had not been planted. But a wise man put his dollars to work. You can see in this picture what his dollars have done. They have multiplied and today each dollar he invested is represented here by more than three dollars and fifty cents. This is the reward of developing El Toro district citrus land. Now he enjoys the results of work his dollars have done. You too, can enjoy the fruits of your dollars' labor. The Newton Company will tell you how. Call or write.

Over 1000 young people are expected to attend the sessions.

"Our Goal—A Soul," the motto of the C. E. union, is based on the convention verse, "And Jesus said unto them, 'Come ye after me and I will make you to become fishers of men.'" The theme is the thread that runs throughout the whole program and begins with Dr. W. Edmonds, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Glendale, opens the convention at 7:30 p. m. Friday, in the Presbyterian church, speaking on the first part of the verse, "Jesus said," or "The Voice of God."

The Rev. W. O. Trueblood, of the Whittier Friends church, will continue the theme on Saturday night, in Calvary church. His address will be on "Come Ye After Me," or "Following Christ." The final of the sermons on the verse will be given by Dr. Louis Evans, pastor of the Pomona Presbyterian church, on Sunday night in the auditorium. The subject of his address will be "Will Make You to Become Fishers of Men," or "Soul Winning."

Special conferences, with excellent speakers and music, under the direction of C. E. leaders, will be held Saturday.

Otis Ironmonger, San Bernardino, and Leland Green and Don Milligan, Placentia, will be song leaders for the meetings and Harold Alexander, of the Hollywood Gospel team, will be soloist. The pianists are those who appeared in the C. E. programs at the convention in Laguna Beach last year, the Misses Hattie Conn and Thelma Green and Milligan.

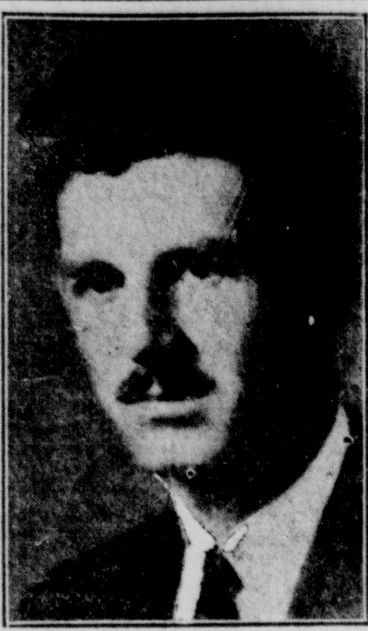

Three banquets are being arranged for Saturday night, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Horace Lucy, one for the grammar school intermediates, in Calvary church; one for high school intermediates, in the Placentia Round Table, and one for young people, in the Presbyterian church. On Sunday morning a Life Recruit breakfast will be served in the Presbyterian church.

Members of the Placentia American Legion post and auxiliary will have lunch stands on the school grounds Saturday noon, where delegates may buy picnic supplies. Saturday afternoon, after 3:30, will be devoted to recreation. Harold Ferguson, chairman of the committee, has arranged for a parade through Fullerton and Placentia. After the parade, an entertainment will be presented on the school campus.

Those attending the sessions are urged to register. Registration includes many privileges at the convention, including a program book that contains detailed events of the meeting, 48 songs to be used during the session, a schedule of county rallies to be held throughout the year, pictures of song leaders and principal speakers and space for note taking and autograph writing.

SINGER, SPEAKER AT C. E. MEET

Harold Alexander, left, a member of the Hollywood gospel team and Dr. W. O. Trueblood, pastor of the Whittier Friends church. Both will take part in the Christian Endeavor program in Placentia this week.

BIBLE CLASS TO PARTICIPATE IN WELFARE WORK

A decision was made by the Men's Community Bible class, at its weekly business meeting, last night, to co-operate with the Orange County Social Service exchange in its work among the needy of the city.

Mrs. Carrie N. Leebrick, assistant director of the county welfare department, pointed out to the class the fact that many persons are making a business of securing financial assistance from various organizations and that duplication of assistance would be avoided through the clearing house activities of her organization.

The class also adopted a resolution thanking the press of the city for its co-operation and the publicity given the activities of the class in its work among the men of the city.

Committees in charge of the special publicity for Mother's day, next Sunday, reported that Santa Ana automobile dealers would furnish trucks for the ballyhoo caravan which will tour Santa Ana Saturday afternoon inviting everyone to attend the services in the Walker theater Sunday morning.

The last payment brought the total reimbursement made to Julian shareholders through the efforts of H. L. Carnahan and Joseph Scott to approximately $35,000,000.

FOREIGN VETS NAME WASSUM AS COMMANDER

The newly organized post of Veterans of Foreign Wars met Monday night in the Santa Ana hotel to select the name for the post and to elect officers for the remainder of the year.

It was decided by unanimous vote to call the post Ernest Kellogg post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in honor of the member of Company L, Seventh California Infantry, who was killed in action in France while carrying a message back from the famous Lost Battalion.

The following officers were elected: Commander, Howard Wassum, Santa Ana; senior vice commander, E. H. Abernethy, Santa Ana; junior vice commander, J. H. Shaw, Santa Ana; officer of the day, O. J. Stanbro, Fullerton; guard, Fred M. Slavens, Santa Ana; trustees, C. C. Graham, Garden Grove, and C. I. Reagan and C. J. Slack, Santa Ana; post advocate, Charles E. Camm, Santa Ana.

These officers will be installed at a meeting to be held some time in June, the exact date to be announced later.

It was decided by the post to hold the charter open for 30 days after installation.

The next meeting will be held Monday night, May 20, in the Santa Ana hotel, and it is requested by the post that all men in Orange county who are eligible for membership be present.

MOTHERS' DAY PROGRAM

The Kiwanis club of Santa Ana will hold a special meeting at 12:15 p. m., tomorrow, at St. Ann's Inn, in honor of Mothers' day. Each member was urged today to attend the meeting and to bring as his guest his mother or sweetheart. A special program has been arranged suitable to the day, in which Robert Brown, vocalist, will be featured.

S. A. NEED FOR AUDITORIUM IS TOLD EXCHANGE

An urgent plea to the Exchange club and all other Santa Ana service organizations to get behind a movement to give Santa Ana an adequate civic auditorium was made yesterday by D. C. Clantoni, director of the municipal band, who appeared before the group in the Santa Ana cafe.

The vital need for an auditorium in which large crowds can be accommodated was evidenced Monday night in the Santa Ana high school, when 1000 persons were unable to get into the assembly hall to hear the Music week program going on there, Clantoni declared. The situation is not one of a temporary nature, he pointed out, stating that the same condition was expected to prevail throughout the week as well as at numerous other occasions when programs of city and county-wide appeal are held in this city.

Santa Ana often is host to large groups of outside people who come here as delegates to state-wide conventions and there is no adequate place in which their sessions can be held, Clantoni stated. Church conventions, service club gatherings and similar affairs are anxious to gather in Santa Ana because of its attractiveness and with improved facilities for taking care of their meetings even more of them could be brought to this city, Clantoni pointed out.

His suggestion met with favor and W. Lester Tubbs, secretary of the Exchange club, voiced approval of the idea. Tubbs and Clantoni suggested that the expense of such a project would be returned to the city through increased business and publicity to be gained by a community with advantageous accommodations to offer to organizations seeking a location for conventions.

Calling attention to the Music week programs now being held in Santa Ana, Clantoni played two trombone numbers, accompanied by Miss Allen Lair. The selections were "On the Road to Mandalay" and "The Kiss." Merle Morris was in charge of the program.

Miss Morrow Knox, accompanied by Miss Lair, sang "Estrellita" and "Morning" to an appreciative group who applauded her enthusiastically.

Mrs. Fannie Reeves and Miss Dorothy Mayhew informed the club of the campaign being carried on by the Forty and Eight and American auxiliaries to raise funds for carrying on the health camp in the Santiago canyon under the auspices of the Tuberculosis association, and for the crippled children of the county. Mrs. Reeves is sponsor for Miss Mayhew as a candidate in the popularity contest which is a feature of the campaign.

WHERE FISHERMAN HOOVER WILL CAMP

Here's the site of the "canvass White House" where Fisherman Herbert Hoover will go during angling week-ends this summer. The camp, pictured above as construction started, is being built by United States Marines in the Fork Mountains of Virginia, not far from the national capital. Here the President will go during the torrid months to indulge his favorite pastime of fishing. The streams in the barren, isolated region have been freshly stocked with a variety of fish.

$120 WORTH OF CLOTHING LOOT OF BURGLARS

Two burglaries were reported to Santa Ana police yesterday, one resulting in the disappearance of clothing valued at $120. In the other case the intruders either were frightened away before they could complete their work or were only looking for money.

The clothing haul was made in the apartment at 410 1-2 West Fourth street, occupied by Mrs. W. M. Russell and Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Tomlinson, some time between 8 o'clock Sunday morning and 7:30 last night, while they were out of the city. According to the report filed by Sgt. R. S. Elliott, at police headquarters, entrance was gained by use of a passkey, and two dresses, a fur trimmed coat and a suit of clothes were taken.

The house and office of Dr. J. H. Pullin, 1806 North Broadway, was ransacked between 12:30 and 1:30 p. m., yesterday, while the family was away from home. Police officials advanced the theory that the burglar was only looking for money, as the entire house had been ransacked, with the drawers of dressers and desks searched.

Other evidence that caused police to believe the thief was interested chiefly in getting money was the fact that the pockets of all garments in the house were left turned inside out. Entrance to the house was gained through a rear window and a locked closet was forced open with a pinch bar. Valuable furs and clothing in the closet were not taken.

ANAHEIM VALENCIA ORANGE SHOW WILL HAVE WORLD'S LARGEST EXHIBITION TENT

Unique in feats of tent engineering, the huge sky-blue canvas of Anaheim's 1929 California Valencia Orange show today was safely lashed to 11 52-foot-steel towers in the completion of the world's largest exhibition structure of its type, covering more than 40,000 square feet floor space.

With the Orange show dates, May 23 to June 2, less than a month distant, the tent has been erected in ample time for the fashioning of feature exhibits and elaborate decorations that will convert the big canvas cavern into Robinson Crusoe's quaint tropical island of Juan Fernandez, according to Manager George W. Reid.

The tent was erected by F. J. Leubbert, retired mariner and business man, from patents obtained during the war when he invented a method of canvas suspension to eliminate quarter-poles from government hangars. Leubbert was aided by C. F. Walde-man, canvas expert, and a crew of seamen upon whom he could depend for a "real nautical job," he said.

Lining the entire interior of the cable-trussed canvas will be a silver-blue sky cloth, bound at the sides in the sea horizon of the island. Jungle foliage, fantastic tropical orchids, brilliant-feathered midways, picket stockades and other island ideas familiar to admirers of Robinson Crusoe have been designed for the tent by Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Allen, creative decorators of Los Angeles. The tent interior will be decorated uniformly throughout its 670-foot length.

$150 DIAMOND IS REPORTED STOLEN

A diamond ring, valued at $150, was stolen from the home of Mrs. R. J. Hanes, 1101 South Main street, between 10 a. m. and noon yesterday, according to a report Mrs. Hanes made to police headquarters.

Mrs. Hanes stated that while working in the kitchen yesterday morning she took the ring from her finger and placed it on the window sill. She did not notice it was missing until she went to get it at noon, when she immediately notified police authorities of the loss. The ring was described as being about one karat in size with three sapphires mounted around the diamond. The ring was of white gold. Chief of Detectives Sid Smithwick, in commenting on the case this afternoon, said Mrs. Hanes had left the house for a few minutes this morning to go to the store and that the ring undoubtedly had been taken during her absence.

MISSION GROUP SUPPORTS L. A. CHURCH'S MOVE

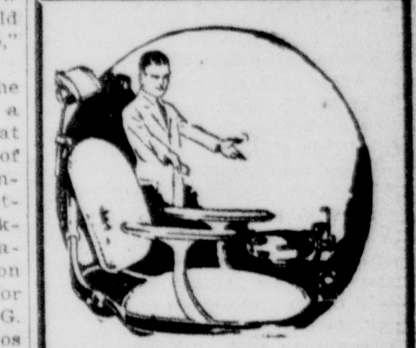

A petition presented by the Rosewood Methodist church, of Los Angeles, calling for protest against billboard signs showing women smoking, was endorsed by the Southern California Conference of the Women's Home Missionary society, held yesterday in the First Methodist church here.

The 500 women attending the quarterly conference were unanimous in their condemnation of advertising the use of tobacco by women. Mrs. Margaret Locke Coffey, presiding officer, voiced her approval of the action taken by the women in their endorsement of the resolution. She said:

"If it is true, as often has been said, that the wealth of the world is in the hands of women, if it is true that the religion of the world is in the hands of women, they surely should be hands that are clean from tobacco filth."

Mrs. E. M. Mills, of Santa Ana, who failed to arrive in this city for the morning session, returned from York, Neb., where she dedicated the new Baby Fold, in time to tell the women at the afternoon session of the conference.

EAT LAGUNA CHOCOLATES AND YOU'LL KEEP FIT

Candy in Moderation Maintains Slenderness

Dietitians generally agree that a balanced diet should include one-fifth fat and sugars. Most rich, heavy foods that contain fat and sugars tend to be converted into tissue fat; whereas CANDY, as most authorities now recognize, is easy to "burn" as fuel.

So, if you are one of those who "must watch their diet"—you can, in safety and without qualms, eat Laguna Chocolates without danger to your waistline.

Change of Wedding Date Comes as Surprise To Friends

Changing her wedding date from June 3 to last night, Miss Murrell Rash, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rash of 1045 West Fifth street, was married to Paul Woodward, of Los Angeles in Las Vegas, Nevada.

News of the wedding was announced today by Mr. and Mrs. Rash and it came as a surprise to Mrs. Rash's many friends here as none of them had known of her change of plans.

The charming bride was gown in a white and yellow crepe de chine ensemble with accessories in white and she carried a beautiful bouquet of rose buds and lilies of the valley. The simple service was read by the pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church in Las Vegas.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Woodward left for a honeymoon at Silver Lake and on their return will make their home in Santa Ana for the summer and early fall.

Mr. Woodward is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Woodward of Ramona and he is connected with the engineering department of the Bell Telephone company in Los Angeles. For the coming several months he will be stationed in Las Vegas.

Mrs. Woodward graduated from the Santa Ana high school in 1922 and afterwards entered a nurses' training school. At present she is employed at the West Coast Surgical Supply company on North Sycamore street.

Pictures of Girls Are To Be Removed from Cigaret Signs

That cigarette signs featuring girls will be abolished in the near future was the announcement made yesterday at a state board meeting of the W. C. T. U. held in Los Angeles, according to Mrs. T. L. Warren of this city, who is secretary of the state organization.

Mrs. Warren said W. C. T. U. officials who have been working for the abolishment of the signs were assured by companies who were responsible for them that there would be no more signs on the order of those objected to.

Plans were discussed for the state W. C. T. U. convention that is to be held in San Diego in October when Gov. C. C. Young and Dr. Ella Roote, national president of the W. C. T. U., will be the principal speakers.

Gay Tints of May Time In Appointments For Dinner

The many gay tints of May time were combined in the attractive appointments of the pretty dinner party with which Mr. and Mrs. James N. Harding entertained last night. Crystal baskets of fragrant blossoms centered each table and quaint place cards and dainty nut cups were in harmonizing tones.

Following the dinner, the evening hours were devoted to bridge and Mrs. Parke S. Roper, Earl Morrow, and Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Clark were presented attractive prizes as they were the fortunate holders of high scores.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harding included Mr. and Mrs. George Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mosher, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Tuttle, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morrow, Dr. and Mrs. J. I. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Plans Completed for Masonic Dance at Rendezvous

Merriment will prevail from beginning to end of the delightful party which Santa Ana Masons bodies are planning for tomorrow night in the Rendezvous ballroom at Balboa Beach, according to plans formulated by Dr. James Farrage and the members of the three blue lodges of the city, the Royal Arch Masons, the Commandery and the Council, and the F. and A. M. chapter, No. 241, Silver Cord and Jubilee lodges.

The Rendezvous will belong to the Masons for the evening, and that includes the orchestra as well, with its collection of the latest dance music. The party will begin at 8:45 o'clock, and arriving guests will be greeted by a reception committee composed of Dr. Farrage, W. V. Whitson, W. O. Patterson, C. F. Yelling and Orson Hunter. Both cards and dancing will be on the entertainment bill, with W. G. Pasenkopp in charge of the card tables where attractive prizes will be awarded.

Asa Hoffman, Carl Mock, and Charles Cogan will form the floor committee in charge of dancing, and have promised several lively balloon dances as well as the always popular Paul Jones numbers to vary fox trots, one-steps and waltzes. Dr. R. O. Grover will have charge of the favors to be distributed.

Refreshments will be served during the evening under the direction of Gus Allen and J. Lansdowne, while supervising all activities will be V. L. Clem, general chairman, and his assistant, William Wollaston. George Mull was named as publicity chairman, one of whose duties was to see that invitation was extended to the young people of Job's Daughters and the De Moly, to be present for the joyous occasion.

That special vesper services will mark the installation of officers of the Y. W. C. A. of the Santa Ana junior college was made known at the meeting of the outgoing officers and cabinet members of the organization yesterday afternoon.

With May 26 selected as the day for the installation, efforts are to be made to secure a chapel for the affair. Miss Corinne Nelson has been appointed to arrange for the services, and Miss Elizabeth Maier is to be in charge of music. Officers who will be installed are: Miss Frances Harper, president; Miss Virginia Thomas, vice president; Miss Mary Ford, secretary, and Miss Rebecca Neddermeyer, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner of 1718 North Main street left yesterday for a several days' visit with their nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Traylor, of Ramona.

Santa Ana Girl Awarded High Scholastic Honor

Mrs. Edith Thatcher, vice principal of Frances E. Willard junior high school, has received word from her daughter, Miss Virginia Thatcher, who is a junior at Oberlin college in Ohio, that she has just been awarded the Phi Beta Kappa key. Miss Thatcher was one of a group of 28 students to be honored.

It was especially remarkable that the young woman should receive this highest scholastic honor to be offered university students considering the fact that she is only a junior.

Miss Thatcher is majoring in English and at present is associate editor of the college annual, "The By-stander."

She is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school where she was a popular student. Her activities here included the editorship of the high school annual, "The Ariel," and the presidency of the girls' league. She was also a member of the Self Government committee.

Miss Thatcher is the fifth member of her family in two generations to become a Phi Beta Kappa member. Her mother, her aunt, Miss Mabel Whiting of the Santa Ana high school faculty, her brother, Everett Thatcher, a member of the faculty of the University of Nebraska, and her sister, Mrs. Lewis Reank of Los Angeles, formerly Miss Elinore Thatcher of this city, have all been awarded Phi Beta Kappa keys.

Mothers of Chapter DI Members Are Honored At Pretty Tea

Mothers of members of Chapter DI, P. E. O., were honored Monday afternoon at a tea given by Mrs. Clarence Gustlin, Mrs. L. M. Forney and Mrs. F. E. Coulter at the hospitable Gustlin home on North Main street.

As each guest arrived she was presented with a quaint old-fashioned bouquet reminiscent of days of crinolines, the colors in which were carried out in baskets of spring flowers arranged about the home. The same lovely tones were found at the tea table where Mrs. Nat Neff and Miss Mabel Larlick presided.

The afternoon's program included an amusing little play, "Mother Pays," that was presented by Mrs. Ben Brubaker of Orange and a number of appropriate selections played by Clarence Gustlin, the city's most brilliant pianist.

Unique Entertainment Offered Members of Woman's Club

Unique entertainment was offered members of the Santa Ana Woman's club yesterday at their meeting in the parish rooms of the Church of the Messiah, where "Santa Ana Industries" formed the theme of the program in charge of Mesdames W. H. Kuhn, Lars Hansen, Asa Vandermaest and Alameda Smith.

Arrangements had been made with various local industries to have their representatives talk on such business and its development here in the city. These talks, with musical numbers offered by junior college students, offered an afternoon as entertaining as it was valuable. The first one was presented by J. E. Bachman, manager of the coffee department of Smart and Final, wholesale grocers.

Beginning with the first knowledge of coffee back in the third century A. D. by shepherds who watched their herds nibbling the pungent leaves of the shrub, Mr. Bachman traced its way down through the fifteenth century when it was brought to Europe, to the present, declaring that 121-2 pounds a year per capita is the consumption in the United States alone.

Music offered a pleasant variant to the program, and two talented young junior college students, Miss Rebecca Mills and Nada Smith Hill delighted the clubwomen with their duo number, "Beautiful Dreams" by Foster. Miss Helen Macarney of the college music department, played their accompaniment as she did for the charming solo rendering of Godard's "Berceuse" by Mrs. Hill.

The Cudahy Packing company was represented by its sales manager, W. D. Johnston, who explained the high standard of the Cudahy goods and the manner of preparation of the toothsome products, especially the carefully spiced, seasoned and oven-baked "Puritan" hams.

Modern break-making was encouraged upon by Claude J. McDowell, manager of the Santa Ana branch of Kipatrick's bakery, and he compared the Kipatrick bakery methods with those of the home baker, enlarging upon the cleanliness, the time saving, and other elements of break-making that are possible in such a large concern.

Taylor's Cannery, a distinctively Santa Ana concern, was the next local industry to be considered, and John E. Hoblit, financial secretary of the concern, outlined the history of the business from its beginning in a little home kitchen of Mrs. Fred G. Taylor, to the present, when plans are being perfected to launch a two million dollar corporation. He described some of the delicious products of the cannery, and outlined the present campaign to extend the field served by a business noted for the excellence of its products.

The program closed with the talk on dairy products by J. T. Raitt, veteran dairyman of the community, and founder of Raitt's Sanitary dairy. While all the talks were enjoyable and instructive, Mr. Raitt's was perhaps the most enlightening as he related early experience in the milk business to the present, when plans are being perfected to launch a two million dollar corporation. He described some of the delicious products of the cannery, and outlined the present campaign to extend the field served by a business noted for the excellence of its products.

During the remainder of the program hour, Mrs. Howard Clemens, president, asked for reports of the recent county convention in Orange, from Mrs. E. C. Wilson, Mrs. S. L. Wedgewood and Dr. Evalene Peo. Each reported on some particular phase of the convention, bringing an interesting glimpse of its activities to their club sisters.

A delightful finale was reached at the refreshment hour when those in charge of the afternoon program, aided by members of the refreshments committee, gave the clubwomen an opportunity to sample the delicious Orange Blossom coffee furnished and brewed by the Smart and Final people; snowy bread from the Kipatrick bakery; Cudahy's tender ham; cream and cottage cheese from Raitt's dairy, and some of Taylor's famous preserves.

"Midsummer's Night" By John Masefield Is Reviewed

Going back to the earliest sources of knowledge concerning the Arthurian legends, John Masefield, well known English poet, has written a book, "Midsummer's Night," that was reviewed yesterday in charming fashion by Miss Mabel Whiting at a meeting of the Modern Poetry section of Ebelt that was held at the home of Mrs. Terry Stephenson, 1522 North Broadway.

Miss Whiting read a number of passages from the book and pointed out that Masefield's versions of the tales of King Arthur are closer to the originals than those appearing in Tennyson or Robinson.

Preceding Miss Whiting's talk, officers for the coming year were elected. They will be Mrs. Edith Thatcher, leader, Miss Lucy Agar, assistant leader, and Miss Martha Ritchie, secretary.

It was announced that members are to bring original poems to the next meeting of the section that is to be held at the home of Miss Martha Ritchie. Subjects for the poems are "Gypsies" or "Fairies." Following the meeting, a social hour was enjoyed when the hostesses, Mrs. Stephenson and Mrs. D. E. Maloney, served delicious refreshments.

Start Work Next Week On Horton's Main St. Building

Ground will be broken next week for a new one-story building at 113 North Main street to be erected by Dr. Roy S. Horton, optometrist. Milo L. Berenson, architect, already has drawn plans for the building, which will be Spanish style in structure and will cost approximately $6000.

To carry out the Spanish idea of architecture, the building will be placed 10 feet from the sidewalk. This plan will give a yard effect, which, when landscaped, will feature a fish pond and shrubs, with recessed entrances into the various offices. Awnings have been planned for the Spanish windows, which will be constructed with tile bases.

Horton's building has been planned with view to enlargement as business develops and the need of more office space is required in that vicinity. R. C. McMillan, general contractor, will construct the building.

CHURCH WOMEN SOCIETY THE HOME WEDDINGS FASHIONS FRATERNAL HOUSEHOLD

The WOMAN'S DAY ALLENE SUMNER

Bloom comes Congressman Sol Bloom of New York with his pet little theory as to what is making the Great American Republic the lack of domestic help. And how much. He says it is the lack of domestic help. An attempt to stave off this catastrophe, Bloom plans to introduce in Congress a bill amending the immigration law to admit about quota restriction European domestics.

He believes that this would help Europe's problem of the surplus female as well as help solve American housewife's problem.

THEY'D LEARN

He says that there is no use denying the fact that all American girls prefer anything in the line to domestic service, and that the servant problem will continue till his bill is in effect. He does not seem to occur to congressman that as soon as the foreign-trained girls in the line of domestic work become organized, and learn that to be in the kitchen is infinitely below caste than laboring in a factory, they too, will take up dressing and typewriting, and some old problem of nobody the dishwashing will be with

NOT SO DIFFERENT

Don't wear embroidered pink underwear." This is just one of the "don'ts" in a book of instructions on how to crash into society, and especially into Chicago society, written by a Chicago University student.

One must not wear woollens, use tablecloth or lamp, ever serve without candles, permit a maid to remove more than one dish at a time from the table, ever say, "pleased to meet you" if introduced, or ever carry an umbrella or package.

This is certainly the height of madness. These "don'ts" apply more to the job of breaking into Chicago society than to the job of being accepted as rather if anywhere!

OLD AT 35

The problem of "the older woman in industry" is the problem of the woman over 35. That makes one shudder a little in an age which makes 35 look as 22 of years ago, but one sees it in the eyes of women whose last husband's suits and hats tell the story of the town for work.

It tells every woman over 30 to get a business age of at least 10 years less, an employment manager told me not long ago, "The Older Woman in Industry".

A Mrs. Lobenz, bravely sets forth the spectre of "what comes at 30" that haunts many a man confronted at that age for the first time with the problem of making a livelihood. The author says that it is not at all a fantastic possibility that if employers' prejudice towards the employed man of over 35 continues, society will have to work out a dole system for the older woman who denied the right to make a livelihood.

WOMEN'S BARS

Tables of special bars for women in Paris with a brass footrail in anything, with shaded lights and stonned chairs, will bring a gasp from the woman raised in the teetotal era. To tell Grandma that there is probably little more ridley or drunkenness in these portulums than in a tea and pasty shoppe would be unbelievable.

The teetotaler still believes that a sip that touch liquor are owed to a drunkard's grave. Her grandmothers would rise up

Hors d'oeuvre are of two types: those served before dinner with Father's pet liquid concoction, and the heartier variety which greet you when dinner is served.

This last takes the place of cocktail or soup and is eaten with a fork, while fingers and agility serve in the first instance. A delightful version of the last-named is made by taking—

Olives stuffed with pimentos or almonds, wrapped in a paper-thin slice of bacon, fastened with a toothpick and quickly broiled. The toothpick serves as both skewer and a handle to pick up the "bonne bouche."

These delectable things are passed around before dinner is served and are taken informally and on the fly, so to speak. Of course, one need not confine their service to a certain time and place.

They would be a marvelous addition to a luncheon salad or a number of them served with toast strips as a luncheon course.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Cheese Savories

12 rounds of bread
1-3 cup grated cheese
4 tablespoons melted butter
3 slices cooked ham
Paprika and white pepper
This type of hors d'oeuvre is served hot as the first course; a small tea knife and fork should accompany it.

The bread is cut less than half an inch thick and from each slice a three-inch round is cut. Carefully dip one side of each round in melted butter and lay six of them in a shallow pan, butter side up. Season the cheese with plenty of paprika and white pepper and divide the amount given between the six rounds.

The cooked ham should be sliced very thin and six rounds cut to fit the bread. Lay a round over each cheese-covered slice, cover with the plain buttered round of bread, this to be brushed liberally over the top with melted butter.

Slide the pan under the broiler flame, toast to a golden-brown and serve at once. At the Theatres

WEST COAST-WALKER

"Speakeasy," the most convincing dialogue picture yet to reach the screen, is on view at the Walker theater. It is a story of New York, filmed in New York, acted by a cast of thoroughly competent stage players and is so realistic one leaves the theater with the thought of having just returned from a journey to the great metropolis.

If you can imagine the thrill of watching and hearing a crowd of some 20,000 enthusiastic boxing fans "hitting on all six" in the famous Madison Square Garden, or watching and hearing New York subway trains thunder and boom in and out of stations, or watch and listen to the great crowd of people in the Grand Central terminal in New York without having seen and heard them before then you need never attend another motion picture show—you can sit home and imagine them.

While all these innovations tend to stir your enthusiasm, the story is no less interesting, molding, as it does, the dramatic thread with the spoken lines.

The players, all newcomers, recruited from the legitimate stage, cover themselves with glory. Paul Page, Lola Lane, our old friend Henry B. Walthall, Sharon Lynn, Helen Ware and others are excellent in their characterizations.

Using Joseph Conrad's masterpiece, "The Rescue," as the vehicle for his first appearance as an individual star for Samuel Goldwyn, Ronald Colman appears before his public in a new light in this enthralling picture now showing at the Broadway theater.

The hero of "Beau Geste" and other remarkable pictures now has a role of the sea and desperate intrigue among natives of the Malay archipelago. Herbert Brennon directed the picture as he did "Beau Geste." Lily Damita, Samuel Goldwyn's new French find, plays opposite Colman as the beautiful Mrs. Travers.

There is every opportunity for beauty of setting and matchless drama in the plot of "The Rescue."

RONALD COLMAN in "THE RESCUE"

In the midst of Captain Tom Lindard's lawless affair of honor involving the throne of a Mayan prince, plundered an English yacht, fatefully stranded in the midst of what was to be the dark theater of war, of the three white passengers, only the owner's wife understood the situation—and Lingard, (Ronald Colman). On him fell the decision—to save the whites and ruin his enterprise—or let the natives have their way with them and fulfill his debt to the Malayan prince.

See... this electrical display

...many travelers call it the most spectacular sight in the West

FROM mile-high Mt. Lowe, two hours' scenic ride from Los Angeles, you look down on the greatest electrical display that can be witnessed.

The lights of Los Angeles and 55 other Southern California cities spread their thrilling pattern over a single panorama embracing 2000 square miles.

Don't miss this never-to-be-forgotten experience. Spacious, hospitable Mt. Lowe Tavern, with its forty cottages, is year 'round headquarters for hiking, sky-high horseback rides... sports for every taste... in a setting of remarkable beauty.

Five trains to Mt. Lowe every day. Round trip from Los Angeles, $2.50. From Pasadena, $2.15. Two days including fare, four meals and lodging, $7.50.

WHEN

EVENING SALUTATION

The earnestness of life is the only passport to the satisfaction of life.

—Theodore Parker.

A NOTABLE DELEGATION VISITS
OUR COUNTY

Today the representatives of the agricultural interests are touring Orange County under the guidance of Mr. Harold Wahlberg, Farm Advisor. They will visit the proposed site of the dam, various ranches, have luncheon at Irvine Park, and dinner at St.
Ann's Inn.

These representatives will be in the neighborhood of 200 in number. There will be about four of the leading agriculturists of each county of the state, besides the leaders in the colleges and heads of farm bureaus. They have been making a tour of the various sections of the State of California, and have now been out about a week, visiting various sections where informative or interesting data on agricultural lines might be secured. They will finish their itinerary this evening with a dinner at St. Ann's Inn.

The leaders who participate in this seminar will be able to return to their respective county farm bureaus and other organizations, and carry to their members much profitable information which will aid in furthering the farming interests of their section.
We know of nothing that is better calculated to help the farmer than such work as is being done this week by this group.

In various communities certain ideas and experiments have been tried, in respect to the soil, in respect to the marketing, in respect to water conservation, and in respect to organization, and the best of this is gathered so that each county is able to benefit from the tests and experience of all.

We know that the farmer to some extent, from a governmental standpoint, has been at a disadvantage.
It is strange to us, at times, to note how certain principles are used to defeat farm legislation, when they are not used where legislation is suggested on behalf of the steel interests, shipping interests, or various form of manufacture. But we wonder if it has not been better for the farmer, in some respects, that he has had to work out his own salvation without the amount of government co-operation that other departments of activity have received. All of his genius has been brought into play, in the control of marketing and establishment of experimental schools. Agricultural colleges under the finest leadership and direction have been developed, and are constantly reaching a higher state of efficiency.

The farmers, as a group, are a very determined and independent class and they carry on their work in confidence. There are some lengths to which they will not go in obtaining legislation, which other interests do not hesitate to use, and the farmers are determined that a lack in this respect shall not prevent them from obtaining their highest achievement.

So, we welcome this group into Orange County today. We are proud to believe that Orange County has something to contribute toward the great educational work of the farmers. We have been benefited in this county by fine leadership in the capacity of Farm Advisor and Farm Agent, together with other representative men, who have received their training in agricultural schools and have had experience for years on county ranches. We know that while they may profit from some of the work that is being done in Orange County, we, in turn, will receive the benefits of the information gathered in other sections of the state, together with the inspiration that their presence is to us today.

Some people buy old furniture. Others achieve the same end by raising a family.

THE INFLUENCE OF THE HOME

So much is being said about the disintegration of the family that we quite forget that there are still some individuals who are so absorbed in each other and their children that they contribute nothing else to the community. They excuse themselves by saying that looking after their children is a good contribution and that if everyone with that job before them did it well there would not be many social problems. That is true but it is an impossibility for some people. Furthermore if each family lived for itself alone who would assume the responsibilities and furnish the impetus for civil progress?

It certainly is a good contribution to raise a fine family in a good home but it is a negative contribution in a way. Bringing up a family of children who are not a burden to society is helpful to society because society is relieved from the burden of helping them. But it is not enough of a contribution from those who are able to contribute more. Those who are able are failing in their duty to society if they do not share the burdens of those who find life too difficult. Individuals who are able to preserve and maintain their own family life have no right to stop there if they are able to do more.

Many times a beautiful family circle could well be the inspiration for sacrificial and helpful civic and social labors outside of the home. If such is the case it is wrong to stop with the home and not spread the friendliness and love and helpfulness of the home to the neighbor, the school, the church and, as far as possible, to the various organizations which aim to promote the welfare and growth of the community.

Havelock Ellis says that "the family is a great social influence in so far as it is the best instrument for creating children who will make the future citizens; but in a certain sense the family is an anti-social influence, for it tends to absorb unduly the energy that is needed for the invigoration of society." And, in completion of the idea: Just as family life exists mainly for the social end of breeding the future race, so family love has its social ends in the extension of sympathy and affection to those outside it, and even in ends that go beyond love altogether.

A MUSIC WEEK BY-PRODUCT

Incidentally the music week programs are convincing a lot of people of the need of a much larger auditorium here in Santa Ana. There are several important things on the Santa Ana development program at the present time but a new civic auditorium should be placed well up on the list. It is not a plan for the future but a need for the present.

AMONG THOSE HONORED

The National Institute of Social Sciences presented gold medals to five individuals the other night, for distinguished achievement in social service.

A brief resume of the work of these five people shows the kind of endeavor which is appreciated by their fellow men.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is the best known of the group, as are also his benefits. He was awarded the medal in recognition of distinguished social service in exemplifying and promoting high standards of business ethics, and for widespread and fruitful generosity. In accepting the tribute, Mr.
Rockefeller said: "In awarding this medal to me, you think of me at my best and magnify that best."

Daniel Willard was awarded the medal for wise management of corporate interests. In making the award, Emory R. Johns, of the University of Pennsylvania, said: "We find in you the ideal executive, whose purpose has been for the constant achievement of the use of men and capital to make possible a higher standard of living." In his acceptance speech Mr. Willard spoke of the unemployment problem, which is becoming very familiar to thoughtful people. The problem of unemployment, he said,
"contains within itself a potential menace to the continuity and stability of our economic system."

Two women were included among the recipients of the medal, Mrs. Valeria Langloeth and Miss Rose Livingston. Mrs. Langloeth has maintained a rest and recreation center for people of moderate circumstances who are in need of such care but unable to pay for it. Willis H. Booth, of the Guaranty Trust company, termed her service "a notable example of responsible use of wealth."

Miss Livingston has labored for twenty-five years in a crusade to end the forcible kidnapping or detention of young girls. "The price of the victory Miss Livingston has won in Chinatown has been high," said Lawrence Chamberlain, who presented the medal. "She has been shot at, she has been stabbed, she has been beaten, has been thrown out of a window in a Brooklyn rooming house, she has been tossed down a flight of steps from an opium den. . . . But there is also the price she has paid in spirit. Think of the great price in loneliness.
She has had to play a lone hand."

Professor James T. Shotwell, director, Division of Economics and History of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, was recognized for effective work in support of the cause of peace among the nations of the world.

"When the history of the Kellogg-Briand treaty is written, the world will realize the part played by this college professor in bringing about this extraordinary proposal," said George W. Wickersham, who presented the medal in this instance.

Two business men, a social service worker, a wealthy woman philanthropist, a professor who has aided greatly in promoting amity between nations, were thus honored.

Protect the Cactus

Imperial Valley Press

Development of desert atmosphere in laying out gardens and grounds along the coast, is in vogue at the present time, and is being accomplished at the expense of Imperial county's desert plants.

Chief of the plants sought for coast use, is the cactus in all its many varieties. Those of us who have had the unfortunate experience of meeting up with the cactus at close quarters, now and then, might be inclined to think that it is a good thing to have all the cactus taken elsewhere. Picking cactus thorns from one's anatomy is not a delightful occupation.

But cactus belongs to our desert as much as the sand, the mesquite or sidewinders. There are certain parts of our county that must always remain desert.
These areas should be left in their natural state insofar as is possible, without hindering progress.

Reports come to this office telling of cactus being removed from the desert by the truckload, and being taken to Los Angeles and vicinity where it is sold at a good price to those not desirous of going out and getting it themselves. If such a practice is permitted, it will not take such a long time to eliminate cactus here, the same as the yucca came near extinction until the state stepped in and saved this beautiful native of California.

Our county protects desert holly and other plants, but there is no protection for cactus. We believe there should be. Riverside county has a law protecting cactus. There certainly should be some restriction against removing it by the truckload.
It appears to us that this is carrying things a little too far.

We urge the various civic organizations to take the matter up with the board of supervisors to the end that some action may be taken to have an ordinance passed which will prevent the wholesale despoliation of the desert.

Take to the Open Road for Pleasure

Spring's advent, here in California, is attested on every hand. Bird, and bee, and flower; warm sunshine; bright foliage of trees; intenser green of grass; and bland and beautiful skies, and the compelling urge that just makes everyone feel that it is spring—all these impel Californians to get the work done up, and to load the family into the trusty automobile, and to him away, over splendid highways—may be to some special goal; or may be just to go and go at random—just for the joy of going.

Get into this inspiring spirit of the Spring. It relaxes. It rejuvenates. It makes life brighter.
It sweeps the cobwebs out the brain. It chases Old Man Gloom to his lair. It invites Old Man Sunshine to take a seat beside you. It brings the elixir of youth to those who are not so young as they once were. It kindles the fires of youth in the young and makes life buoyant, as it should be.

Californians should observe a daily Thanksgiving for the specific purpose of showing gratitude to Providence for making California what it is, and for the blessing of being permitted to live in this state. When you go forth, this goodly springtime and revel in the beauty and joyousness of California as it is, thank God that California is what it is and that you live here to enjoy it.

Dr. Grenfell Speaks

Christian Science Monitor

Dr. Grenfell (which title is so much more familiar than the more grandiloquent Sir Wilfred Grenfell) took another fling at drink recently in his usual forceful, unequivocal manner. He said that alcohol had wrecked more lives, starved more children and murdered more women than any other single factor.

Excess Baggage!

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A PROTEST

I have lately been reading that science
Has hopes to produce before long
A new generation of giants
Prodigious and mighty and strong.
These future he-men it will dower
With muscle, with height, and with girth
And enough intellectual power
To give them the rule of the earth.

For science my great veneration
Has often been freely avowed
It has met with my full approbation,
I have shouted its praises aloud.
I know that its unflinching labors
Combined with its magical touch
Have given to me and my neighbors
The movies, the speakies and such.

But I find myself inwardly quaking
To think—if I still am alive
What these giants I learn it is making—
Will do to me when they arrive.
I hate to be peppy and snappy,
Overwork I believe is unsound,
And I know I'd be very unhappy
With a giant to boss me around.

I MIGHT step about somewhat faster
If I tolled at a giant's behest,
But I rather would be my own master
And choose my own hours of rest.
These scientist chaps, as I view it,
Have abundance of work of their own
And I certainly wish they would do it
And let those darned giants alone.

THE EASIEST WAY

Why pay money to hear a talking Marathon when the Senate gallery is free?

THE UNLUCKY MAJORITY

Doctors continually talk about the value of immunity, but we can't all be night club hostesses.

THE DRAWBACK

It seems to be generally agreed that the speakies wouldn't be so bad if they didn't try to talk.

Why Not Trade By Barter?

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and

WADDILL CATCHINGS

NOTE.—Dr. Foster, eminent economist, is head of the Pollak Foundation for Economic Research; Mr. Catchings, renowned banker, began his career as a law clerk. The two have studied economics in all its phases, from the scientific viewpoint and from the practical. The keynote of their writings is: Prosperity can be made permanent.

Lieutenant Cameron gives this account of his difficulties in buying a boat from natives in Africa: "Syde's agent wished to be paid in ivory, of which I had none; but I found that Mohammed Ibn Salib had ivory and wanted cloth. Still, as I had no cloth, this did not assist me greatly until I heard that Mohammed Ibn Gharib had cloth and wanted wire. This I fortunately possessed.
So I gave Ibn Gharib the requisite amount of wire; whereupon he handed over cloth to Ibn Salib, who in his turn gave Syde's agent the wished-for ivory. Then he allowed me to have the boat."

That case illustrates the inconvenience of trade by barter; namely, the difficulty of finding a man who not only wants what you have to sell, but who has for sale what you want to buy.

In this country today are the makers of ten thousand different things—wind mills, coffins, calcium lights, wooden legs, steam rollers, jews harps, and all the rest. Suppose each worker were paid, as all workers were once paid, in shares of the products of his own labor. What a job he would have lugging them around with him, and trying to use them in place of money in his daily trading with the butcher, the baker, and the candle-stick maker?

A return to barter as the chief means of trading is unthinkable.

Tomorrow—Is Money Wealth?

I got home in time to be early for supper today, ma saying, My lands for goodness sakes look at your face, and pop saying, For Peet sake yes, what have you been up against or down under?

Meaning on account of some scratches on my face, and I sed, I was wawking home and Persey Weever jumped rite out at me and made about 5 grabs at my face with his hands and then ran away before I realized I had time to chase him.

What, do you mean to say he made an unprovoked assault on you? pop sed.

Meaning without me doing anything to him first, and I sed, Yes sir that's just exactly what he did,
I was wawking along not even thinking about him and all of a sudden he jumped at me from in back of somebody's front steps. It was absolutely unnecessary, I sed.

Well of all things, ma sed, A boy with a nature like that auld to be put in prison and not auld to be to roam the free streets endangering life and limb, she sed.

He auld to be put in a cat hos-pittle, if you ask me, pop sed. By gollyes I've got a good mind to take the evidences by the hand and go to that young brats house and watch him get a good licking.

Yes indeed, I think Benny deserves that much reward, ma sed, I think I'll call his mother on the fone first and prepare the way for it, she sed, and I quick sed, Never mind, ma, you don't need to go to the trouble, I got even with him myself.

How? ma sed, and pop sed, What,
I thawt you sed he ran and got away, and I sed, Yes sir, but I meen yestidday. Yestidday he was in his back yard and I climbed up on his fents and hit him on the top of the hed with a soft tomato,
I sed.

Well I declare, I mite of known, such a boy, ma sed.

Meaning me, and pop sed, Yee gods, go on up and wash your hands and whans left of your face.

Wich I did.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

AS A YOUNG MAN ENTERS BUSINESS

The other day a young man came to my office to discuss with me the problem he will face when he ends his university career next June and sets out to find his first job.

He intends to enter business.
"What," I asked me, "should I look for in the business in which I hope to spend my life?"

Here are some of the things I suggested.

If I were considering a position in a particular business organization, I should want to know the following things:

First, I should want to know the present prosperity and future possibilities of the business or industrial field in which the firm in question was operating. I should not risk my future in even a successful business in a slim field.

Second, I should want to know the standing of the firm in question in that field. I should not risk my future in a firm that was not living up to the best standards of its field.

Third, I should want to know the maximum opportunity in work and income in each department of the firm in question. I should not risk my future in a firm the maximum opportunities of which were too limited.

Fourth, I should want to know what chance I would have of earning an interest in the firm in question. I should not risk my future in a firm that sent me to a salaried position.

Fifth, I should want to know whether I would have a chance to learn all phases of the of the firm in question. I not risk my future in a firm made no deliberate provision for wider responsibility.

Sixth, I should want to know how the firm in question mined promotions. I should risk my future in a firm habitually went outside its ranks for men to fill its most important positions. I should not risk my future in a firm in there were already enough men to make to fill all the important positions that are likely to be filled for several years to come.

Seventh, I should want to know the special tasks of the firm in question in the light of my particular abilities, temperamental training. I should not risk my future in a firm the task which might prove uncon-familiar to my particular temperamental training.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

PLAYING TO WIN

The boys of nine, and ten, and their sisters, play games to win.
Instead of urging upon them the beauty of the sportsman's spirit we will do better to help them improve their skill in play at this stage. They will listen to us when we tell them that hold a ball SO, and standing SO, and striking out SO, will improve their game. Keen upon winning they will strive to DO what will make them winners.

No matter how deeply we appreciate the beauty of a fine stroke, a steady aim and fine shot;
no matter how much we appreciate the sturdy spirit that does not know when it is beaten and struggles on to the last ditch, playing the game to the last heartbreaking point, it is better we keep that idea to ourselves and bear hard on skill. There is no use to keep talking to deaf ears.
Ethics of sportsmanship grow out of experience in the game.
They are never taught by the book.

Ten years to twelve wants to hit the longest ball, run the swift-est race, make the most points.
How he does it matters nothing to him at all. Accept that as his lane of growth, fall in with him there and teach him the right form.

It is common enough to hear grownup people say "this formality makes me tired. What's the difference whether you go first or I go first? What if a man does lose patience and cusses a bit? You can't always be on dress parade. They won't let you on the courts unless you wear a certain dress, they won't let you on the links unless you can make it under ninety. There's no fun in playing if you can't just dub along."

But dubbing along is not playing.

BATTLE OF PALO ALTO

On May 8, 1846, the battle of Palo Alto, Tex., was fought between 2000 American troops and 6000 Mexicans. The battle, resulting in an American victory, was looked upon in Washington as a Mexican invasion of United States territory, since the Polk administration had set up a claim to all southwest lands north of the Rio Grande river, after settling the northwest boundary dispute with England by treaty.

The battle was the immediate cause of the Mexican war, declared less than a week later. It was a feeble effort on the part of Mexico to prevent General Taylor, United States commander in the southwest, from pushing on to the Rio Grande.

General Taylor's political star began to rise at Palo Alto. He became the first military hero the country had had in a long time and this finally brought him to the presidency.

Taylor led American troops to victory in four of the ten battles of the Mexican war including Monterey and Vista. General Winfield Scott
the other six. The Mexicans no major victory during the conflict.

DOUBLE EDGED

"Isn't it hard," said the landlady, "to think this poor lamb cut down in its youth to satisfy our appetites?"
"Yes," replied the unhappy boarder at the end of the table,
"tough."—Tit-Bits.
